

New York City Crippled by Power Failure

Normal Life Stops For 13 Hours; Services Knocked Out

New York—(AP)—Lights flickering off in hospital operating rooms... Elevator service knocked out in huge apartment buildings... Packed subways, with a sweating human cargo, trapped in underground tunnels.

That was the picture as a sudden power failure struck the heart of the city Monday. The power failure hit thousands of buildings in a 500-block section of upper Manhattan, leaving half a million people without elevators, air conditioning, traffic lights, or any of the complex systems that keep a great city functioning smoothly.

Power Restored
The power failure began in mid-afternoon yesterday, and gradual restoration continued into the early morning hours today.

Power was completely restored to the area at 2:42 a.m. today, almost 13 hours after it went off.

The mercury was near 90 when power went off, and the humidity was suffocating. Suddenly every intersection became a traffic jam.

Then the recovery began. In hospitals, emergency lights came on. Extra police poured into the area, straightened out the traffic.

Police sent emergency generator trucks to Mount Sinai hospital, where nine polio patients in iron lungs depended on auxiliary power.

Subways Stop
Subways, which have independent power and were stopped when signal lights went out, began to crawl, as workers with red lanterns signalled that the way was clear ahead.

Apartment dwellers began to find out how it feels to climb stairs. And then darkness came, and New Yorkers in the stricken area saw the eerie spectacle of a city without lights.

In hospitals, they faced the problem of getting expectant mothers to delivery rooms without elevators. At least one child was delivered in the wavering beam of a flashlight.

Rockefeller Scouts New Hampshire Political Picture

Washington—(AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller looked into the New Hampshire primary situation today but maintained silence on his future political plans.

Arriving here by private plane for a conference with President Eisenhower, Rockefeller smilingly declined to be drawn out on the question on whether he would accept the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Yukon Reports Oil, Gas Strike

Ottawa—(AP)—An oil and gas strike in the Yukon, where soundings panned for gold half a century ago, was announced Monday night.

This is the first discovery of oil in the Yukon territory and the first of the far north since Norman Wells was discovered in the northwest territories in 1920," resources Minister Alvin Hamilton said.

He said drilling on the Eagle plain oil reservation 150 miles northeast of Dawson yielded to 10 million cubic feet of gas a day and light gravity oil.

'58 Recession Fails to Hurt Fox Cities' Income Tax Shares

Only Menasha Collects Less as Most Get Substantial Increases

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—The Fox Cities weathered the economic recession of early 1958 better than many others in Wisconsin, local shares of the state's normal income tax reveal.

Most Fox Cities this year got larger tax shares than in 1957 and earlier years, reflecting a high level of employment and business activity. Some gains were substantial. Only Menasha collected less from the state than last year.

The total apportionment, compared with the 1957 distribution:

Appleton, $1,098,264 against $1,002,883; Kaukauna, $259,481 and $141,791; Neenah, $9,407 and $16,818; Menasha, $330,518 and $363,832; Combined Locks, $46,353 and $53,331; Kimberly $178,767 and $136,532; Little Chute $39,058 and $36,006.

Attempted Murder Backfires, 2 Held

4 Firemen Die; 42 More Hurt

Oil Storage Tanks Blow Up in Kansas City Blaze

Kansas City—(AP)—A group of oil storage tanks became ignited by a fire from a filling station today and exploded, killing four firemen. At least 42 others were injured.

Besides the 42 injured, at least 40 more firemen were treated at the scene.

Most of the dead and injured were engulfed by a mushrooming ball of fire which enveloped the area as the tanks exploded.

The number of casualties probably would have been much greater had authorities not ordered evacuation of a several block area when it appeared that a filling station fire could not be checked immediately.

Several of the injured were in critical condition.

The fire sprang up in a filling station where two men were filling a gasoline truck. As it spread four 25,000-gallon storage tanks exploded. Several lesser explosions belched out of the mass of flames and smoke.

One of the large tanks spewed flaming fuel into a group of firemen. Several of the men were felled.

Well-Known Square Dance Caller, Mother Try to Strangle Husband; Triangle Also Involved Other Wife

(From Press Dispatches)

Oconomowoc—A Milwaukee square dance caller and an attractive Oconomowoc mother, 28, conspired to strangle her husband and discussed killing his wife, Oconomowoc Dist. Atty. William F. Reilly said today.

Edward A. Dunn, 43, Milwaukee, the father of four children, has been charged with the attempted murder of Mrs. Margie Pfeiffer's husband. Both are being held under $10,000 bail.

Dunn tried to kill the woman's husband last Friday night with a wire noose, police said. The noose snapped instead and the two men fought.

Dunn has visited the Fox Cities area frequently as a square dance caller and was to be general chairman for the state square dance convention, scheduled for Appleton Aug. 28, 29 and 30. Convention officials said today that a new chairman would be named Sunday in Fond du Lac at a square dance jamboree.

Reilly said Mrs. Pfeiffer related that she and Dunn were in love and decided to murder their spouses because they had no grounds for divorce. They wanted to marry, Reilly said.

Dunn had planned the murder of Pfeiffer for months, Reilly said. The Pfeiffers have two children. Reilly said that in her statement Mrs. Pfeiffer quoted Dunn as saying, "I don't know which to kill first."

Court hearings have been scheduled for Sept. 1 and 2. The strangulation plot was thwarted by a faulty auto engine and a piece of wire that was too weak for the job, police said.

Watched TV
Reilly said that Mrs. Pfeiffer went out last Friday night as her husband watched a football game on television, picked up Dunn and drove him back to the Pfeiffer home. He hid in the back seat of the car, authorities said.

Mrs. Pfeiffer asked her husband, Clyde, to buy some ice cream. When he seated himself in the car, Dunn looped the length of fire around Pfeiffer's neck and jerked. The wire snapped, and the two men fought. Pfeiffer broke away and called police.

Dunn denied any part in the attack, Reilly said. News of the attempted strangulation stunned Fox Cities.

Flash Flood Traps Town

Cloudburst Drops Tons of Water on Needles, Calif.

Needles, Calif.—(AP)—A desert cloudburst dropped a devastating load of rainfall that virtually sealed this tiny Colorado river town Monday night.

The flash flood ended early today—as abruptly as it started.

It left an estimated 200 motorists stranded, three railroad workers missing and parts of highways 66 and 95 washed out.

Sheriff's officers said the flood sealed the town on three sides—north, south and west—and threatened the road leading eastward out of Needles.

Although the rain stopped, traffic was stalled early today as flood waters swelled and bridges destroyed by the day as it bore down on the mountainous walls of water that poured out of a desert arroyos and ravines.

Steel Strike Facts to be Made Public

Ike, Sec. Mitchell Move to Speed Up Settlement Talks

Washington—(AP)—President Eisenhower and Sec. of Labor James R. Mitchell decided today to make public basic facts behind the steel strike in hopes of spurring negotiations and a settlement. The information gathered by Mitchell as Eisenhower's personal fact finder, will be made public for Thursday newspapers.

Mitchell said they will cover wages, prices, productivity, profits and a few related matters.

The secretary told a news conference the information covers a major part but not all of the facts he has been assembling from industrial and government sources.

Factual Report
Mitchell said the report will be a factual one with no recommendations for action.

He said he made no action proposals this morning in a 45-minute conference with Eisenhower.

He told questioners the projected release of facts "is not intended as intervention. We hope as a result of these background statistics that the parties will bargain a little."

150 People May be Trapped Between Slide and Dam; Montana Area Hit Hardest

Helena, Mont.—(AP)—Montana civil defense headquarters heard an Idaho state police broadcast today which said eight persons have been killed by earthquakes in the Reynolds pass area on the Montana-Idaho border.

The steadily mounting death toll had been placed at about 16 by noon.

Helena, Mont.—(AP)—Earthquakes which shook the northwest from British Columbia to Wyoming last night and early today killed at least six persons, Sheriff Lloyd Brook was advised, damaged a big dam and toppled a mountain into the Madison river, blocking it.

The fatalities were reported to the sheriff at Virginia City, Mont., by a helicopter pilot, who said he counted the bodies as he circled the area.

The chief of the Montana highway patrol, Alex B. Stephenson, was quoted by state civil defense Director Hugh Potter as reporting that between 100 and 150 people appeared to be marooned between damaged Hebgen dam and the mountain slide.

Labor Seeks to Obtain Cuts in Control Bill

Forest Park, Pa.—(AP)—AFL-CIO chiefs mapped plans today to try to get congress to cut from senate and house labor control bills the provisions to which organized labor objects most.

The differing bills passed by the two houses are now before a joint conference committee. The union leaders expressed dislike for both, but the country was tipped askew by the quake.

Sheriff Donald J. Skerritt and Pilot Al Newby, after an early morning flight over the area, said "a mountain slid into the river." They estimated 30 or 40 people

"They have written SOS all up and down the undamaged parts of the highway," he said. He reported seeing 30 or 40 people at the dam, where pressed dislike for both, but the country was tipped askew by the quake.

Howze, chief of the U.S. military advisory group in Korea, did not directly mention the allegation in a San Francisco Chronicle story that two Korean doctors had been bumped below for the dog.

An army spokesman said, however, there was no connection between the doctors' passage and the dog's since the physicians had received the kind of accommodations for which they paid.

Howze flew here in July. He said he had made routine arrangements for his dog's travel, including feeding and exercise, aboard the transport General W. A. Mann.

2 White Policemen Say Crowd Hampered Attempt to Nab Negro

St. Louis—(AP)—Two white policemen in plain clothes said a large, unruly crowd of Negroes interrupted their pursuit of a youthful Negro purse snatcher at a housing project last night.

The milling crowd was dispersed only after about 20 uniformed policemen, some armed with riot guns, were sent to the area of the predominantly Negro 1200 housing project.

Three dogs of the police department caused confusion. They were used to force back the crowd. No arrests were made. Patrolman Richard Jones, one of the plain clothes officers, said at least 500 Negroes had gathered before reinforcements arrived. The purse snatcher fled into a building and escaped.

Yacht With 9 Aboard Now Out of Trouble

Honolulu—(AP)—A yacht, with nine persons aboard and a leak-flooded engine room, sent out a distress call yesterday off the island of Hawaii. A plane dropped a pump that got the boat out of danger.

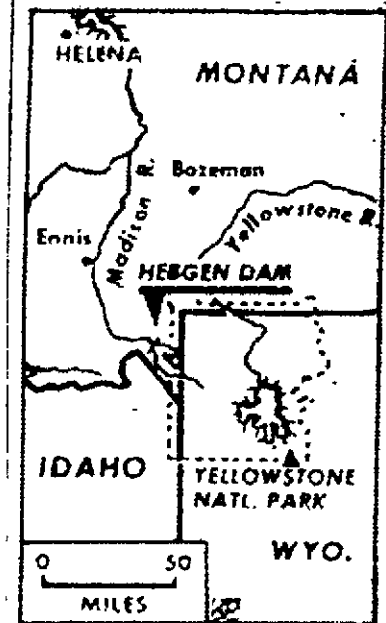

The coast guard reported the 62-foot schooner, owned by Cliff Johnson, formerly of San Diego, Calif., headed in to Kailua-Kona, Hawaii, 38 miles east under patrol boat escort for repairs last night.

General Denies His Dog Had Cabin Facilities on Ship

Seoul—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Hamilton H. Howze today denied as "nonsense from start to finish" a newspaper report that his dog crossed the Pacific to Korea in a cabin on a troop transport while two Korean doctors sweated in the hold.

Howze issued a written statement saying he paid $7.50 for a kennel on deck for his Irish Setter, and "at no time did the dog enter the cabin of any area other than the area specifically designated for pets."

Howze, chief of the U.S. military advisory group in Korea, did not directly mention the allegation in a San Francisco Chronicle story that two Korean doctors had

A campground in Madison canyon was buried by the slide, the sheriff and pilot reported, and bits of wreckage which appeared to be part of tents and trailers were littered about in the debris.

The quakes shook Yellowstone.

GOP Jubilant About Labor Control Bill

Say Democratic Congress Heads Toward Passing Measure Through Efforts of Party, Eisenhower

BY JACK BELL
Washington —(U)— Jubilant Republicans contended today that through their efforts and those of President Eisenhower, the Democratic congress is heading toward passage of a strong labor control bill.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois predicted in an interview that congress will pass a bill satisfactory to Eisenhower.

A senate-house conference committee sets out late today to try to compromise differing senate and house versions.

The conference was arranged after some GOP senators won an understanding that the senate will get a chance to vote on the house bill at some point if no agreement is reached.

Eisenhower had criticized the senate-passed bill as ineffective, and had spoken out strongly for the more restrictive bill which the house later passed. But the senate made no effort yesterday to vote on the house bill as a substitute for its own.

Political Shot in Arm
Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, assistant house GOP leader, said in a separate interview Republicans had received a political shot in the arm by house passage last week of the stronger measure.

"Telegrams of congratulation are pouring in to all of our people who voted for the bill," he said. "It has given the Republican party a lift when it needed it. Now we're going to get ourselves in shape for 1960."

The senate checked action on the labor bills to the senate-house conference committee yesterday only after a lengthy debate over what it will do if that group can't agree on a compromise version.

Compromise Provisions
Dirksen said the administration's position is that any compromise must contain some provisions dealing with secondary boycotts, but a picketing and the normal's land area of state and federal jurisdiction over complaints. These are all in the house bill but are covered in less stringent provisions of the senate bill.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, appearing on a television program with Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) recorded for Pennsylvania stations, said he feels "the great majority of the American people want and need some effective labor legislation passed by this congress."

Nixon said he was talking about "legislation that will be directed simply at this objective of making all unions follow the good practices that many unions do today."

"It seems to me," he went on, "that that is the position that the administration has taken with regard to labor legislation. It is not punitive, it's only directed at the evils that are involved."

Actress Gets Permission to Keep 120 Cats

Los Angeles —(U)— Janine Grandel and her 121 boarders won't have to move after all.

The boarders: 120 cats (all last count) and a guinea pig. Neighbors had complained to the department of animal regulation that the cats had been making too much noise. They asked that her kennel permit be revoked.

But the department ruled yesterday she can keep her permit because the animals are adequately housed.

The cats have the run of the house — sleeping in beds, chairs, the stove and atop the television set.

$350 Fred Bill
Miss Grandel, a red-haired French actress, said she spends about $350 a month to feed the cats—males and females of Persian, Burmese and Siamese breed.

"Nothing's too good for my little friends," she added.

She plans to take her brood along with her on a year-long visit to France.

Air fare for each cat from Los Angeles to New York is $7. It's $10 a head from New York to Paris via first-class kennel aboard ship.

Her husband, opera singer Paul Gilbert, doesn't live at home.

"I wonder if it's because he doesn't like cats?" she asked.

3 Mental Health Bills Signed Into Law by Governor
Madison —(U)— Three bills comprising the Legislature's most significant action in the field of mental health have been signed into law, the executive office announced today.

The key measure provides a 2-year total of $306,000 in state aid to 16 community health clinics, plus funds to build one new clinic in each of the next two years.

In signing the measure, Gov. Gaylord Nelson said the community approach to mental health treatment combined with rehabilitation services at the local level "is in line with the best modern psychiatric thinking." He said it "offers hope that many can be cured before becoming permanent emotionally-disturbed wards of our society."

Under provisions of the bill, the state will pay 40 per cent of clinical costs and localities will provide the remainder.

Flying Nun's Desire to Pilot Super Jet Balked

New Orleans —(U)— Sister Mary Aquinas, the flying nun from Green Bay, was balked in her latest desire—to fly a supersonic jet.

Authorities explained, she said today, because of heavy traffic of reservists getting in summer training, they were unable to accommodate her.

Sister Aquinas, who has flown B36s and flying boxcars, says she flies "just to keep in training."

Signal From Outer Space To Open Show

Explorer VI Will Transmit Sign on Special Command

San Francisco —(U)—A signal from outer space today opens the 4-day western electronics show and convention, a gathering of 30,000 representatives of a mushrooming industry that amazes even them.

The signal will be transmitted on command by Explorer VI satellite now in orbit.

The event is the annual attempt by scientists, engineers, technicians and executives to catch up with the swift strides in everything from missiles and television to tiny tape recorders.

O. H. Brown, director of the show, said 857 companies are featuring more than $20 million in new equipment. The cavernous Cow palace has been enlarged to hold it all. A closed-circuit TV system was set up in the convention hall for paging purposes.

Convention officials told a news conference Monday electronics has become the west's largest industry and is second only to agriculture. Bernard Oliver, chairman of the executive committee, said the future looks even rosier.

A. J. Morris, vice president of Levinthal Electronics products, said even should disarmament come tomorrow the billions now going into military spending would be channeled into electronic communication systems.

These systems contemplate using satellites and the moon itself to relay telecasts.

Youngster, 2, Dies After Ping Pong Ball Lodges in His Throat
Bellmawr, N.J. —(U)— Larry Weisenbach, 2, suffocated Monday when a ping pong ball he was playing with became stuck in his throat.

The boy was rushed to West Jersey hospital in Camden after a fire rescue squad had removed the ball with forceps.

Three doctors opened the boy's chest and massaged his heart. After nearly two hours, they pronounced him dead.

Soldiers Return After Hunt for Comrades' Bodies

Moses Lake, Wash. —(U)— Eleven flying soldiers were on their way back to civilization by mule train and boat today after coming through two helicopter crashes in a 4-day effort to recover the bodies of two comrades.

Apparently none of the men were injured in either crash.

The first crash occurred last Friday. A helicopter with eight men aboard flew into the wilds of north central Washington to bring out the bodies of two men killed in a plane crash last January.

The wreckage of this plane, and the still-walking men, were sighted the next day. Yesterday, another helicopter flew in and picked them up, along with the bodies of Capt. Wade L. Shankle, Jr., 27, Dexter, Mo., and Pvt. John A. Ardussi, 20, Rocky River, Ohio.

Taking off, the copter hit a clump of trees and crashed. Its crew of three and the eight men it had picked up apparently escaped injury.

A 3-mule pack train was sent from the nearby town of Twisp to the crash scene about 120 miles northwest of there. The men hiked to the isolated village of Stehkin.

There they were to take a boat south on Lake Chelan to a point where a plane could pick them up.

Peace Reigning at Little Rock as Integration Starts First Full Week

Little Rock, Ark. —(U)— School officials deny a segregationist's claim of unrest and fighting between white pupils and a Negro at integrated Central High school. They said peace reigns at Central and at Hall, the other integrated high school.

As integration entered the second day of its first full week here, school authorities at nearby Pine Bluff worked to stay an order directing them to integrate.

Jefferson Thomas, 16-year-old senior and the lone Negro at Central, also denied being in any fights. But he said he was jeered and hooted at by a small group of white pupils as he left school yesterday. It was the first such incident reported at the school, which has 1,200 white pupils.

No Trouble At Hall
Three Negro girls at Hall High have had no trouble.

Ted L. Lamb, school board secretary, said Supt. of Schools Terrell E. Powell had assured him no disciplinary problems had arisen in the schools in connection with fighting or with any other incident.

The Dollarway school board at Pine Bluff announced it is appealing to the Eighth U. S. circuit court of appeals at St. Louis its request for a stay of the desegregation order directed against it. Federal Judge Axel J. Beck, who issued the directive, denied the stay yesterday.

Petition Fausus
Petitions were circulated in the Dollarway district calling on Gov. Orval E. Faubus to use all the forces at his command to halt the entrance of three Negro pupils to the all-white Dollarway High school as Beck had ordered. The petitions were to be presented to Faubus later this week.

Dollarway is set to open Sept. 8.

Lee Parham, Dollarway school board president, said the board had nothing to do with the petitions. He said the board would begin today to prepare for assigning students to Dollarway under a pupil placement law. This law, designed to minimize integration, also was used by the Little Rock school board. But Beck told Dollarway, in his ruling, that it had misapplied the law in a "coverup to conceal its segregationist attitude."

Butler Comes Out Victor in Ruckus About Tickets

Los Angeles —(U)—The ruckus over tickets has ended in a complete victory for Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler — and Los Angeles will keep the 1960 party convention.

Butler threw the prestige of his office into a showdown over seating with wealthy oilman Edwin C. Pauley. The dispute almost cost this city its first major political convention.

Pauley bowed out yesterday as finance chairman of the host committee and the old committee was disbanded.

Tickets Refused
Pauley had insisted the committee was promised 5,000 tickets a day to the July convention in return for its $350,000 guarantee to the national committee. He later offered to compromise and accept 3,133. Butler refused him on both counts.

A new sponsoring group was formed. It agreed to underwrite the guarantee and accept Butler's top ticket offer — 1,500 tickets a day. Butler had threatened to pull the convention out of Los Angeles unless his terms were met.

The new group also agreed to another key Butler demand, opposed by Pauley: transfer of all advertising revenue from the convention program to the Democratic national committee.

Popular Oldtime Train Derailed In Accident

Willits, Calif. —(U)— Mendocino county's little pet railway, the Skunk, is now the veteran of an accident.

The Skunk is a 1-coach, narrow-gauge train which shuttles daily over an old logging line between here and Fort Bragg on the coast, 40 miles down a crooked canyon. It is beloved of tourists, camera fans, and antique railway aficionados.

Monday a big truck-trailer rig was rolling down a street in the middle of Willits when its driver, Grady Harris of Ukiah, looked down out of his cab and saw the Skunk's 9-foot diesel engine about to ram the rear of his truck, loaded with 38 tons of wood.

There was a crash. The Skunk was derailed. Ten passengers were released after hospital treatment of minor injuries.

A crane lifted the Skunk back on the track.

Beard Growers To Take 'Em Off

Denver —(U)— All year long Coloradans have been urged to grow beards to help celebrate the "Rush to the Rockies" centennial.

Now the Denver centennial authority is putting its weight behind a campaign to make the whiskers disappear. It announced a beard-shaving contest Sept. 12 at the pioneer village in civic center.

The man who shaves the quickest and cleanest will get a prize.

Nelson Kills Bill to Make Judges Continue Cases With Legislators

Madison —(U)—A bill that would have forced judges to continue until the end of a legislative session any court case involving a lawyer-legislator has been vetoed by Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Nelson said in his veto message Monday that the measure had been returned to the assembly where it was authored by 30 legislators of both parties.

The attorney general's office had grave doubts about the constitutionality of the bill, Nelson said, because it did not provide equal protection to clients represented by attorneys who are not members of the legislature.

Lawyer-legislators presently are afforded some court privileges during the time the legislature is in session. However, a judge is not obligated to grant continuances.

Clutching a Rope to Keep his face out of suffocating wet sand, Ralph Longo, 50, laborer at a sand hopper in Long Island City N. Y., waited for rescue by shovel and bucket brigade during his 90-minute entrapment Monday. Sand and cement started sliding down on him when he went 15 feet down into the hopper to dislodge some big stones that had toppled into it. The life-and-death struggle during which he was completely buried at times was won by the rescuers.

Pauley bowed out yesterday as finance chairman of the host committee and the old committee was disbanded.

Tickets Refused
Pauley had insisted the committee was promised 5,000 tickets a day to the July convention in return for its $350,000 guarantee to the national committee. He later offered to compromise and accept 3,133. Butler refused him on both counts.

A new sponsoring group was formed. It agreed to underwrite the guarantee and accept Butler's top ticket offer — 1,500 tickets a day. Butler had threatened to pull the convention out of Los Angeles unless his terms were met.

The new group also agreed to another key Butler demand, opposed by Pauley: transfer of all advertising revenue from the convention program to the Democratic national committee.

Butler threw the prestige of his office into a showdown over seating with wealthy oilman Edwin C. Pauley. The dispute almost cost this city its first major political convention.

Defeats Dim Hopes of Administration to Make Housing Bill Changes

GOP Fails in Attempts to Bring Plan in Line With Ike's Wishes

BY JOE HALL
Washington —(U)— A series of defeats dimmed today administration hopes for winning from the senate any substantial changes in the new omnibus housing bill.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), floor manager for the measure, predicted it would be passed and sent to the house during the day in about the same shape in which it reached the floor.

Republicans, joined by some southern Democrats, failed yesterday in four attempts to bring the bill more in line with President Eisenhower's desires.

Some change may be made today, however, in a comparatively minor provision dealing with housing on military bases. This has aroused the administration's ire.

Need Government Control
The provision would require the government to take over several of the projects still held by private operators, and also would increase the amount of government court deposits in condemnation cases involving such housing. Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said the section would cost $70 to $80 million over the next two years.

The senate ignored threats of a new veto in voting yesterday against efforts to trim the bill.

The measure is a pared-down substitute for the housing legislation Eisenhower killed July 7. It has in it nearly all of the programs of the vetoed measure, though with smaller authorizations.

Republican Loss
Republicans lost yesterday in two separate attempts to knock from the bill a $50 million loan program for building college classrooms.

Also beaten, 51-40, was an amendment to cut the public housing units in the bill from 37,000 to 25,000. The president asked no new starts.

A fourth amendment, rejected 55-27, would have extended the FHA home mortgage insurance authority to Oct. 1, 1961. The bill now continues it only until Oct. 1 next year, making almost necessary another housing bill next year.

Popular Oldtime Train Derailed In Accident

Willits, Calif. —(U)— Mendocino county's little pet railway, the Skunk, is now the veteran of an accident.

The Skunk is a 1-coach, narrow-gauge train which shuttles daily over an old logging line between here and Fort Bragg on the coast, 40 miles down a crooked canyon. It is beloved of tourists, camera fans, and antique railway aficionados.

Monday a big truck-trailer rig was rolling down a street in the middle of Willits when its driver, Grady Harris of Ukiah, looked down out of his cab and saw the Skunk's 9-foot diesel engine about to ram the rear of his truck, loaded with 38 tons of wood.

There was a crash. The Skunk was derailed. Ten passengers were released after hospital treatment of minor injuries.

A crane lifted the Skunk back on the track.

Beard Growers To Take 'Em Off

Denver —(U)— All year long Coloradans have been urged to grow beards to help celebrate the "Rush to the Rockies" centennial.

Now the Denver centennial authority is putting its weight behind a campaign to make the whiskers disappear. It announced a beard-shaving contest Sept. 12 at the pioneer village in civic center.

The man who shaves the quickest and cleanest will get a prize.

Nelson Kills Bill to Make Judges Continue Cases With Legislators

Madison —(U)—A bill that would have forced judges to continue until the end of a legislative session any court case involving a lawyer-legislator has been vetoed by Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Nelson said in his veto message Monday that the measure had been returned to the assembly where it was authored by 30 legislators of both parties.

The attorney general's office had grave doubts about the constitutionality of the bill, Nelson said, because it did not provide equal protection to clients represented by attorneys who are not members of the legislature.

Lawyer-legislators presently are afforded some court privileges during the time the legislature is in session. However, a judge is not obligated to grant continuances.

History May Prove Importance of Indian Separation of Law of '54

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Keshena—Mau-ka-mahm is the Algonquin term for white men. It means "the long knives."
On July 17, 1954, the Mau-ka-mahm swung out of Washington and cut forever the apron strings which have bound the Menominees to the U. S. Government since the British flag was hauled down for the last time on American soil.

The fury of many Menominees was heard across the land. "This is not freedom; it is abandonment," cried many sincere tribesmen. Others said, "It is too soon. The Indian is not ready for independence. He must walk slowly on the path of the white man."

But the president signed H.R. 2828 and it became a law. History may show it to be the most important piece of Indian legislation ever written. It was the culmination of a plan created and set into action a century ago. Perhaps the Indian should have been ready for it. But he was not.

Today there are three kinds of Menominee opinion on the termination of federal supervision. There is the Menominee who is bewildered and confused—and bitterly against the so-called "freedom."

There is the Indian who to this day does not believe it will happen. And there is the "progressive" Indian who conceives termination to be the best thing for the tribe, bitter though it may seem.

Such a man is Mitchell Weso, a member of the Menominee tribal council. Outspoken, forthright but still bitter over the history of white man's treatment of his people, Weso said:

"I don't think it makes much difference if the Menominees remain as a people or not. Sure, the tribe will be gone in a century but I think its descendants will live here and retain a little of the memory of past days."

Out of Washington have come edicts born of cupidity. Legislative betrayal of the worst order has been pushed at the brave Menominees countless times. One attorney general handed down the startling opinion in 1888 that the Menominees had no right to cut their own timber. "The right of Indians on an Indian reservation is one of occupancy only," he said.

Despite such treatment, the Menominees retained their present reservation and have thrived more than most other tribes. Its present population is greater than it was a hundred years ago. The average steadily employed Menominee earns approximately $2,500 per year.

Across the nation, the American Indian still owns 56 million acres of land, some of it bad, uncompromisingly poor—given to him when it was considered "good enough for the Indians."

It is clear that the Indian is yet aware of his own fine qualities and of the qualities of his ancestors though many whites are not.

Four-sevenths of American farm products consist of plants domesticated by Indians of pre-Columbian times. Methods of planting, irrigation, cultivation, storage and utilization were pioneered by the Indians and given to the whites.

In 400 years botanists and physicians have not discovered any medicinal plant unknown to the Indians. If, as many white persons believe, the Indian is indeed "ruined" financially and socially, the only solution is the inexorable plan for termination and the plan for the establishment of the new Menominee county are wonderful plans. We will have adjustments to make and new laws to follow. But you fellows have to obey new laws, too. You do it and we can. We can't put the brakes on progress, and the new plan is progress."

Earnest Neconish whose surname translates to "man in front" still opposes the separation as do many others.

Opposes Separation

"I have it in my mind to tear all these papers up," he has said. He has predicted that the Big Spirit will send the souls of some tribal leaders to "the bad place."

Over the many years the Menominees have had superb leadership. Traditionally they have opposed the influx of the white man, the carving up of their ancestral grounds. They have been treated badly but their leadership was sufficient. And the by-word of them all was: "Hold our lands."

It is possible that what Weso drew from the ancestral root was confidence by means psychological rather than medicinal.

It is possible, too, that what the Menominee needs more than anything else in order to guide his new country to success is some confidence of the same variety—but not from a root.

The modern medicine could well come from a dose of admiration and respect—from the white man.

Man Was Homesick

Richmond, Va. — The defendant told Judge Harold C. Maurice he was lost and pulled a fire box alarm so he could find his way home. The judge expressed sympathy, but fined him $100.

Know Their Heritage

Across the nation, the American Indian still owns 56 million acres of land, some of it bad, uncompromisingly poor—given to him when it was considered "good enough for the Indians."

It is clear that the Indian is yet aware of his own fine qualities and of the qualities of his ancestors though many whites are not.

Four-sevenths of American farm products consist of plants domesticated by Indians of pre-Columbian times. Methods of planting, irrigation, cultivation, storage and utilization were pioneered by the Indians and given to the whites.

In 400 years botanists and physicians have not discovered any medicinal plant unknown to the Indians. If, as many white persons believe, the Indian is indeed "ruined" financially and socially, the only solution is the inexorable one of absorption into the white races.

Superior People

But to this reporter who visited many Menominees and talked with them at length in their neat homes, it appears that many members of the tribe are superior people—intelligent, industrious and proud.

And—at least for those of us on hand during the closing curtain of a people who were great in history—the death of a people is a sad finish. Today the Indian is still Indian, however. It would be well for us to help in the preservation of their finest qualities.

Modern Use of Root

In Washington, Monn Weso unwrapped the herb and tasted it when he was to plead the case of the Menominees before a congressional committee.

"It gave me a feeling of clearness and light so beautiful, so clean and so happy that I cannot describe it," he said.

It is possible that what Weso drew from the ancestral root was confidence by means psychological rather than medicinal.

It is possible, too, that what the Menominee needs more than anything else in order to guide his new country to success is some confidence of the same variety—but not from a root.

The modern medicine could well come from a dose of admiration and respect—from the white man.

Foreign Aid Helping India, Missionary Says

Baptist Woman Tells Optimists About Stay in Asian Country

American foreign aid is helping India in a variety of ways, a former Appleton woman and Baptist missionary told Appleton Optimists Monday.

Suzanne Powers, a 1945 Appleton High school graduate, is home on a year's furlough after a 5 1/2 - year stay in the sprawling, Asian country.

"Our foreign aid spending is small, in comparison to other items. We are helping the Indians by drilling tube wells—about 100 feet deep—for pure water. Malaria and typhoid are prevalent in the country, since the people use rivers for bathing and washing," she said.

Crops Better

"The Indian men used to wash away the land. Now, with dams built by foreign aid, the rice crops are better and the living standard has been raised," she added.

Miss Powers explained that scholarships helped many of the girls attend the Baptist mission school near Balasore in the Orissa province, where she was stationed.

Indian land ownership, she continued, is causing poverty. In essence, it works in this manner: As males get married, their wives become part of the groom's family. The land and home ownership is split up, each male given equal parts. A huge farm is soon reduced to small parcels of land.

Bright Note

Miss Powers said Catholic resistance to communism in Kerala, an Indian province torn with strife, is a "bright note" in the battle for men's minds.

"When Tibet went communist and the Dalai Lama fled to India, I was in Europe with three Canadian missionaries. They thought India would fall. Kerala, the most literate area in India, fell to the communists. Evidently the Reds desecrated Roman Catholic churches and the trouble resulted," she said.

Young boys and girls receive attractive communist literature, but, she said, she doubted whether communism would get a strong foothold in India.

In a question and answer period following her talk, Miss Powers said that the United States Information Service (Calcutta) was one of the American agencies helping the missions by sending them educational materials.

She also said she hopes to go back to India after completing her furlough.

Her missionary work was under the auspices of the American Baptist Mission society.

Housewife Puts Robber Twice Size to Flight

Pittsburgh — A Pittsburgh housewife put a robber twice her size to flight Monday.

Police said a man got into the apartment belonging to Mrs. Clara Bervin by telling her he wanted to leave a note for a family across the hall.

Once inside Mrs. Bervin's apartment, the robber grabbed her, slammed his hand over her mouth and demanded $5.

The lady sank her chopppers in his hand and off he ran, police.

Two Killed in Crash Of Bus and Trailer

Donegal, Pa. — A Greyhound bus and a tractor-trailer collided today on the Pennsylvania turnpike, killing two persons and injuring five.

Several hours after the collision, state police were still trying to extricate the two victims from the bus wreckage. They were unidentified.

State police said the bus plowed into the rear of the truck, left the highway and plunged down an embankment into a stream about four miles west of Donegal. The road was wet and foggy, according to police.

Two Killed in Crash Of Bus and Trailer

Donegal, Pa. — A Greyhound bus and a tractor-trailer collided today on the Pennsylvania turnpike, killing two persons and injuring five.

Several hours after the collision, state police were still trying to extricate the two victims from the bus wreckage. They were unidentified.

State police said the bus plowed into the rear of the truck, left the highway and plunged down an embankment into a stream about four miles west of Donegal. The road was wet and foggy, according to police.

Police said a man got into the apartment belonging to Mrs. Clara Bervin by telling her he wanted to leave a note for a family across the hall.

Once inside Mrs. Bervin's apartment, the robber grabbed her, slammed his hand over her mouth and demanded $5.

The lady sank her chopppers in his hand and off he ran, police.

Across the nation, the American Indian still owns 56 million acres of land, some of it bad, uncompromisingly poor—given to him when it was considered "good enough for the Indians."

It is clear that the Indian is yet aware of his own fine qualities and of the qualities of his ancestors though many whites are not.

Four-sevenths of American farm products consist of plants domesticated by Indians of pre-Columbian times. Methods of planting, irrigation, cultivation, storage and utilization were pioneered by the Indians and given to the whites.

In 400 years botanists and physicians have not discovered any medicinal plant unknown to the Indians. If, as many white persons believe, the Indian is indeed "ruined" financially and socially, the only solution is the inexorable

How much does it cost not to go to college?

Everybody deplores the high cost of going to college. But the rapid and exciting scientific developments of recent years make one thing obvious. It is vitally important that America's young people be well educated to meet the challenge of the future.

For quite some time, American business has been aware that the high cost of going to college is not nearly as high for the nation as the cost of not going to college. The cost of not going to college could be a critical weakening of democracy itself. The nation cannot afford that price!

To help promising students and privately-financed liberal arts colleges, we and many other companies give financial aid in various ways. Standard Oil, for example, has made funds available which provide for 34 graduate fellowships and undergraduates scholarships in science and engineering. The educational institutions select those who receive the awards. Four-year scholarships awarded through the National Merit Scholarship Corporation also are included in the program. Supplementary grants are made to schools chosen by the Merit Scholarship winners.

In addition, Standard Oil has made funds available from which $175,000 is paid yearly, through the State Associations of Colleges, to aid privately-financed liberal arts colleges in the Midwest and Rocky Mountain areas.

At Standard Oil, where so much of our planning concerns the future, we believe there are few things more vital to America's security than a well-educated public. And we think that industry should back up such beliefs with substantial aid to colleges and students.

WHAT MAKES A COMPANY A GOOD CITIZEN?

For one thing—the way it looks ahead, for the good of all. In years to come, America will gain strength and security through the combined efforts of business and colleges today in making higher education more available to more people.

It's a familiar sight at Hamline University, St. Paul, Minnesota, to see the school's president, Dr. Paul H. Giddens, chatting with students. Shown here with him are Janet D. Swanson of Fairmount, North Dakota, and Paul E. Martin of Hibbing, Minnesota, who hold scholarships awarded by American business. Says Dr. Giddens: "Financial assistance to outstanding students by business and industry serves to increase the future supply of talented leaders."

W.W. Mixon of Hammond, Indiana, is a physics major at the University of Chicago. He holds a National Merit Scholarship. Aid to students and colleges is another way in which business helps assure America's strength and security.

Dr. Vance D. Rogers, president of Nebraska Wesleyan University, Lincoln, Nebraska, says: "Scholarship aid helps deserving students to secure an education. This investment by industry assures competent leadership for tomorrow."

Pro Football Starts On Television Friday

Packers Included in ABC-TV's
Saturday Night Series Sept. 12

BY JINGO

Television coverage of the professional football season begins this week.

Friday night, CBS-TV will carry the Colts-Giants game from the Cotton bowl at Dallas. It's the first of four pre-season and 66 regular season games the network will present.

The other pre-season tilts are Giants-Bears, Soldiers Field, Sept. 11; Browns-Lions, Detroit, Sept. 13, and Colts-Cardinals, Louisville, Sept. 20. The last two will be carried in part after the baseball games.

The 66 regular season games start with the Giants-Rams from the LA Coliseum Saturday, Sept. 26. Included are two Saturday afternoon frays in December and the annual Thanksgiving Day battle between the Packers and the Lions in Detroit. Only Packer road games are scheduled in the regional telecasts. On four Sundays as many as six games will be telecast simultaneously in different parts of the country.

Saturday night, ABC-TV will carry the first of seven pro games, including the Packers and Redskins from Winston-Salem, N. C., Sept. 12. First game pits the Cardinals against the Steelers at Austin, Tex. Others include Lions-Giants, Aug. 29; Bears-Redskins, Sept. 5; Bears - Browns, Sept. 19; Steelers-Browns, Sept. 26; and Colts-Bears, Oct. 3.

And, speaking of football, NBC-TV will continue its Saturday afternoon collegiate "Game of the Week" this fall. Lindsey Nelson and Red Grange will handle them.

The schedule: Louisiana State - Rice, Sept. 19; North-western-Oklahoma, Sept. 26;

Texas - California, Oct. 3; Michigan State - Notre Dame, Oct. 17; Big Ten game (unse-lected), Oct. 24; Boston College - Pittsburgh (east) and Missouri - Air Force (west), Nov. 7; Big Ten game (unse-lected), Nov. 21; Duke - North Carolina, Nov. 26; Army-Navy, Nov. 28, and UCLA-Syracuse, Dec. 5. The missing dates, Oct. 10, Oct. 31 and Nov. 14, will feature regional telecasts.

And, while we're at it, both CBS-TV and NBC-TV have announced bowl game coverage for Saturday, Dec. 19. CBS-TV will carry the first annual Blue Bonnet Bowl from Rice Stadium, Houston, Texas, and NBC-TV, the Liberty Bowl from Philadelphia.

Two Plays Written by William Gibson Slated For Autumn Production

New York — Playwright William Gibson is going to have a busy autumn. Two of his scripts are slated for production, one on Broadway and the other in an off-Broadway theater.

"The Miracle Worker," based upon the early life of Helen Keller, is the Broadway entry. The other is "Dinny and the Witches," a fantasy about a jazz musician.

Gibson's only previous stage offering was the long-run hit "Two for the Seesaw."

New Home Rule Plan at Miami Looks Back on 2 Years of Growth

From The Miami Herald

It is a change in form of local government in this state necessitated by changing conditions. As such it is a worthy endeavor which should be encouraged and assisted, and should be limited only by the provisions of the constitutional provision itself.

Vital Statistics Show Population Changes

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Madison — The periodic population studies of state agencies provide fuel for reflection for those who are interested in the economic and political development of the state.

ed as during the 1830's when the succor of the northland was a basic local political issue.
But they are steadily losing people. The movement is inexorable. It is to the south and east. The migration to the cities is one of the fundamentally important trends of post-war in Wisconsin — as elsewhere.

THE CHANGES

Most of them are in fact better off economically than they were a short generation ago. With their gradually recovering forest lands, with their tourist-attracting waters containing muskies and pike, they have built a new economic base and are no longer as obviously distressed.

THE WHOLE

Standing alone, the gain of 14 to 15 per cent in total Wisconsin population in this decade appears fairly impressive.
Examined more closely, however, it may well contain some cause for concern. For it is merely an average growth, what any other typical section of this country would have achieved during the same period.

Senators Heading Demands for Listing Official Expenses

From The Pella, Iowa Chronicle
Some members of the U. S. Senate are sending constituents statements about their office expenses, their employees and the salaries paid them and explanations about the hiring of relatives. This action is to forestall publication of such information quarterly as required by a regulation suggested by the Senate Rule Committee and adopted by the body.

Public Opinion Curbs Labor's Abuse of Power

Mitchell's Bill Will Stop 'Dictatorships' Aid Members' Rights

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — Something of epochal importance happened when the house of representatives last Friday passed a law aimed at stopping abuses of power by labor unions. It was not merely on merits of the issue that the vote is a notable record, Lawrence said it was a demonstration of the power of public opinion to cut through party lines.

The nation had given to the Democratic party in the 1958 election overwhelming control of the house of representatives. Yet a Republican president was able to persuade the people that their representatives in the house should support the measure he favored. Not so long ago some writers were cavalierly dismissing Eisenhower as a "weak" executive because, not being eligible under the constitution to be a candidate for re-election, he couldn't influence congress by promises of appointments and other favors. But this was a superficial view. It was based on a failure to read carefully the pages of American history.

Presidents like Theodore Roosevelt led even in the second term because they were able to sway public opinion. Eisenhower, precisely because he cannot run for office again, is looked upon as disinterested. For nearly two years now he has insisted that there must be reform legislation to curb abuses in the labor-management field. The Democratic party - controlled congress, influenced to no small extent by Northern Democrats who are closely affiliated with labor unions, was hesitant to enact any laws dealing effectively with the abuses exposed by the senate's investigating committee.

Dilatory Attitude
A plainly dilatory attitude was manifested by the Democratic leadership in the senate, which acted in 1958 only when it was apparent that it was too late to get the measure through the house at that session.

But the president, counseled by Sec. of Labor Mitchell, insisted on keeping the issue before the people. A bill was drawn up and presented at the start of the current session of congress, prepared by Mitchell.

Though he has been looked upon as somewhat inclined to be a partisan of the labor-union cause - especially because of his refusal to endorse wholeheartedly the right-to-work doctrine - he turned out to be a true friend of both labor and management by persistently urging that a measure be passed to deal with the flagrant abuses exposed by the McClellan committee.

Leaders Made Mistake
The labor-union leaders who opposed the administration measures never made a bigger mistake. They failed to see that statesmanship really demanded their support of the reform measure. Instead, they cried out that the bill would hurt "legitimate unionism."

union members have held the same view. Unions, to them, are sacrosanct. Union officers wield power to tax every employee in a plant and make him pay dues and assess-balance away from unions without his consent, toward the employer, actual-Union officers determine that a worker must be fired if he refuses to join a union. Union officers decide whether dues the money shall be used to help elect a party or a candidate that the worker himself may oppose. Many do not permit

Such absolutism has not yet passed last Friday by the has managed on other occasions in the last several years to save America from depredations of a radical and spendthrift bloc of so-called "liberals." They profess to be in favor of human rights but actually vote to give monopoly powers to special groups which help them to win elec-from the South. It was they who joined with Northern Republicans in a coalition that passed to punish wicked corporations when they usurped power, and it will insist on the same treatment now for those who betray the workers by conducting autocratic unions and setting up one-man dictatorships which brazenly use methods that are plainly violative of individual rights.

ties area people who had known Dunn through square dancing association.

Dunn has been visiting the area to help set up a state convention.

News reached about 50 members of the Wolf River Area Dancers and Callers associations at a meeting in Wrightstown, held at the American Legion hall, Monday night.

Mrs. Lyle Leatherman, 353 First street, Menasha, said today that she and her husband had known Dunn and his wife about four years but didn't see them too frequently — only through association with dancing.

Dunn was guest caller for a square dance held at Appleton's Foster school this spring.

Popular Caller Leatherman said that Dunn was a "regular fellow" and a very popular caller. Dunn's hobby was square dancing. Leatherman said, and he worked in Milwaukee as a foreman at some plant.

The last time Dunn visited the area was about three weeks ago, Mrs. Leatherman and Carlton Schneider, New London, said.

Schneider, a caller for about 10 years, said Dunn and his wife, also an avid square dance fan, visited him about three weeks ago in Greenville, where Schneider operates a retail lumber yard.

"He was putting in a lot of time on our convention and his wife was just as 'up' on it as he was. They came to see me and he wanted some drawings and sketches regarding the exhibits which I band had known Dunn and his wife about four years but didn't see them too frequently — only through association with dancing.

Steel Strike Facts to be Made Public harder and reach a settlement."

Asked whether he interprets this as increased pressure on industry and labor, Mitchell said he wouldn't interpret it at all.

He said he hopes the facts will clarify some of the issues and inform the public on them.

The session with Mitchell was the major business item on a list of engagements which brought Eisenhower back to the White House for a one-day break in his work-rest holiday at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm home.

Plans Changed Eisenhower had planned to make the trip by helicopter but rain at Gettysburg changed his plans. Coming by automobile, he arrived only minutes ahead of his date with Mitchell.

Later in the day he had an appointment with New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. He planned to go back to Gettysburg shortly after that.

Mitchell said the voluminous data on the steel strike, now in its sixth week, are in the process of being printed. He said he will make them available and discuss them at a news conference in his office at 2 p. m. tomorrow, "for Thursday release."

A reporter asked whether the material will favor one side or the other. Mitchell replied:

"I think that is for the public to judge."

Representatives of both sides of the steel controversy, Mitchell said, met with officials of the bureau of labor statistics and reviewed in a preliminary way the facts which now will be released. He said no substantial changes have been made as a result although "some suggestions both sides made were adopted."

Sens. George Aiken (R-Vt.) and Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) teamed up in a statement yesterday calling for Eisenhower to make public the facts on the steel strike.

Western U. S. Hit Hard by 'Quakes

stone national park, filled with tourists.

Dean Stone, managing editor of the Maryville-Alcoa (Tenn.) Times, was among the tourists routed by the quake. He said the hotel and mammoth hot springs rumbled for several minutes and that at least one auto was trapped inside the park by a rockslide.

Dr. W. A. Melther, manning a hospital in Ashton, East Idaho town, said he treated half a dozen minor injury cases from West Yellowstone.

Three of four of the people he said, were pretty badly shaken up.

He said there is a general exodus from the western gateway of the park, 57 miles northeast of Ashton.

The assistant chief ranger at Yellowstone park, Frank Sylvester, said most west side roads were closed by slides but tourists travel was "carried on through other entrances. A water main broke in the eastern wing of Old Faithful inn."

He reported there appeared to be no damage to Old Faithful and other famed geysers and scenic features in the park.

He said the last heavy tremor in the park was in 1924 and that the geysers also escaped damage.

Roads Closed He reported roads closed by rockslides included south from Mammoth, Norris Junction to Madison Junction and from Old Faithful to Madison Junction.

Most of the residents of Ennis, Mont., about 50 miles downstream from Hebgen dam, were evacuated in the pre-dawn hours but about a hundred remained. The evacuation was ordered when it appeared the third of a million acre feet in Hebgen lake might pour down on them. The evacuation was called off when the mountainside blocked the river so tightly it shut off all the stream's flow.

Many of those who left Ennis went to nearby Virginia City, famed in western lore as the birthplace of the vigilantes.

Peyton Barnett, a motel operator and volunteer fireman, was among those who remained. He said he and his wife and the others were "packed and ready to go at any moment."

All tourists staying in the town were awakened at 2 a. m. and were advised to get out. The same advice was given to tourists at Three Forks, several miles downstream.

Huge Boulders Richard D. Smiley, president and general manager of radio station KXXL at Bozeman, Mont., tried to get in to the area where the tourists were marooned but said the road was impassable at the slide scene. Boulders, he said, are "as big as an automobile."

The highway patrol chief reported the surface of the roadway — U. S. Highway 287 — was so broken up between the dam and the slide that cars couldn't move.

Civil Defense Director Potter appealed for helicopters to aid in the rescue and asked the U. S. forest service to send in a smokejumper equipped with a radio to help organize the people. A smokejumper is a parachutist who jumps into forest fire areas to fight blazes.

The search and rescue coordinating center of the fourth air force at Hamilton field, near San Francisco, said it is mustering helicopters to try to rescue the marooned persons. The "copters are being rounded up from Gross yield was nearly $171,000,000, or about $1,500,000 greater than the previous year despite forecasts for revenue losses during the brief recession period more than a year ago.

Prospects for next year's collections, moreover, are optimistic because of the high rate of economic activity thus far this year.

State authorities are forecasting a gain of 15 to 20 percent in the collections, without allowing for possible increases in tax rates. This means local shares of the receipts will rise correspondingly when the division is

No Pick-Up Prize, Has to Drive It Home

St. Louis — To Theodore Rau, it seemed a simple matter to pick up a prize he won in a supermarket raffle. The prize was a toy-scale version of a 1910 model T ford.

Once at the store, Rau realized his error.

So he jack-knifed his 6-foot, 24-inch frame into the driver's seat, tuned up the 3-horsepower motor and set sail for home, two miles away in Glendale.

During Rush Hour Rau, 35, was apprehensive about what other motorists might do. After all, it was the rush hour and he did have to use heavily traveled Manchester avenue.

Instead of chafing, motorists lined up behind the baby Ford, craned their necks and smiled.

"It was a little slow, though," Rau said. "It's supposed to do 30 miles an hour, but we actually made about five."

Once home, Rau and his mother-in-law each picked up one end and carried the car into the living room.

The mother pug is Car/Mac Golden Token, the pup is Mieke.

All About Pets

Plenty of Breeds to Choose From When You're Shopping for Puppy

BY JACK GLASNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

There are plenty of breeds to choose from when you want a pet dog—and there are an estimated 25 million dogs in the U. S.

There are some factors you might want to know about different breeds when you are looking for a pet. It's true that dogs are used in some countries as beasts of burden and in the U. S. we use them for hunting and train them to lead blind persons. However, a dog at home is more important to more people as a sort of sedative to frayed nerves at the end of a day.

The American Kennel club probably is the foremost organization keeping records of purebred dogs. There are 116 recognized breeds in the U. S. Local organizations make up the American Kennel club, making suggestions for rules to keep lines purebred.

The AKC keeps a complete and permanent record on each purebred dog—his life history, his ancestors.

This is the first in a series of 14 articles on pets, compiled from information from the American Veterinary Medical association by Post-Crescent staff-writer Jack Glasner. While not all veterinarians will agree with the entire contents of each article, the general information is correct and differs only in interpretation by various veterinarians. The AVMA recommends always that pet owners in doubt about their pets' health consult a veterinarian. It may not be generally known, but a veterinarian goes through a minimum of six years education to get his DVM, about the same educational period as a doctor of medicine.

tors, his show wins and his breeding record. The system covers information on more than three million purebreds.

When an owner purchases a puppy listed as an AKC registered dog, he is fairly well assured the dog is a true representative of his breed.

There are more than 300 local all-breed clubs, most associated with the AKC, which devote their time to promoting purebred dogs and shows.

Crossbred, Too

Mongrels, crossbreds or curs probably are more representative of pets—there are so many more of them. There isn't any organization, outside of local humane societies, to protect the mutt's interests. And there isn't much interest in tracking their ancestors, either.

On the eternal question of whether a purebred makes a better pet than a cross-bred, there isn't any definite answer. A purebred puppy can be bought with the assurance that he will turn out to look like his ancestors. His size, coloring and general appearance can be predicted, unlike most mongrels. Of course, ownership of a purebred dog also gives a pride of ownership, which is important to many people.

How Smart?

On the matter of intelligence, most veterinarians and dog handlers agree that no one breed has the corner on titled to papers proving that brains. With dogs, like their masters, brains are a question of individuals. In many dogs, a spirit of cooperation, helping owners even as they care for the dogs, can be seen. And this isn't a matter of training, because dogs often do the correct thing with no previous experience to tell them what should be done.

The first thing to do in selecting a dog is to decide whether you want or can handle a dog of the larger breeds—boxers, great Danes, Doberman pinscher. They make excellent pets, but you have to have the facilities to care for them. The results will be uniformly disappointing to owner and dog alike if you try to keep one in a small apartment, for instance. The dog may fail to develop as he should in small quarters and the result may sour the whole family on the idea of a pet.

Think about the cost before getting a dog—if you don't have the time or the inclination to give a long-haired breed the attention it deserves, pick a short-hair.

Health of Pet

Health of dogs is a relative thing—a puppy may be in excellent health, but taking him home and playing with him until he's exhausted, feeding him improperly or irregularly or mistreating him in other ways may make the dog sick.

Most breeders will give new owners instructions on how to care for puppies and, by dealing with reputable dealers, new owners have assurance they are getting a healthy dog. Local kennel clubs or veterinarians can direct you to a kennel.

There are some hints on whether a puppy will grow into a dog with a good disposition. Looking at an 8-week-old puppy: The puppy which is alert and active, the one who is full of life, looks happy and comes to you, although looking you over with a quizzical eye, is probably the one you want.

It's a common saying that the runt of the litter makes the best dog.

Future Trouble

However, that may be human nature asserting itself. It may not be a healthy puppy; something may have been wrong even before he was born. Experts say you're looking for future trouble if you pick the runt. It's equally bad to feel sorry for, and to want, the shy puppy, the one bossed around by other pups, because the dog's attitude probably won't change through life. Often these dogs acquire a bad disposition.

Prices for breeds are fairly uniform throughout the country—larger breeds cost more. Some breeds have to have ears or tails trimmed. The price depends on breed, age and ancestry. If you buy a dog handlers agree that no one breed has the corner on titled to papers proving that brains. With dogs, like their masters, brains are a question of individuals. In many

Total Mileage Of Satellites Nears 1 Billion

Washington —The man-made moons of the earth have rolled up close to a billion miles of travel since they blasted off their U.S. and Soviet launching pads. Calculations by the IBM Vanguard computing center here gave all the satellites a total of more than 934,700,000 miles as of noon Aug. 15. The figures did not include the fantastic space travels of Russia's Mecha rocket, believed to be in orbit around the sun, or of Pioneer IV, America's first successful solar satellite. The sun is some 93 million miles from the earth.

Pioneer IV, launched last March 3, made its closest approach to the sun—91,700,000 miles—March 17, and is due to be at its farthest point of 106,100,000 miles away about Oct. 1.

Here are the tallies for the satellites still in orbit:

Explorer I, launched Jan. 31, 1958—213,000,000 miles.

Vanguard I, launched Mar. 17, 1958—186,100,000 miles.

Sputnik III, launched May 15, 1958—177,100,000 miles.

Explorer IV, launched July 26, 1958—145,500,000 miles.

Vanguard II, launched Feb. 17, 1959—66,100,000 miles.

Explorer VI, launched Aug. 7, 1959—1,350,000 miles.

The totals for the longer-lived among the satellites that have fallen out of their orbits:

Sputnik I, life span Oct. 4, 1957-Jan. 4, 1958—36,800,000 miles.

Sputnik II, Nov. 3, 1957-April 13, 1958—63,000,000 miles.

Explorer III, March 26-June 27, 1958—32,200,000 miles.

Atlas Score, Dec. 18, 1958-Jan. 21, 1959—13,300,000 miles.

Situation in Laos New Communist Approach

Troops Trained by Vietminh Army Infiltrate Mountain Nation as Khrushchev Plans Visit

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Washington — Maybe it just proves the country has been tranquilized in recent years.

Alsop

The scene of the new aggression is Laos, the mountainous little country dividing Thailand from the two Vietnams. This is about as far away as possible. But Dien Bien Phu opened a new chapter in the history of Asia, after having caused the use of nuclear weapons to be seriously discussed in the National Security council.

Strong Leader
The situation in Laos is viewed as potentially very grave in the inner circles of the government. Since so little attention has been paid to this situation, it may be well to summarize the main facts.

In brief Laos acquired a relatively strong government about a year ago, with the appointment of Premier Phouy Sananikone. As soon as he took office, Premier Sananikone set to work to put the Laotian house in order. He began to reorganize and strengthen the army, and to root out the surviving elements of the Pathet Lao.

The Pathet Lao is an extension of the communist Vietminh movement. It ruled two border provinces, Phong Saly and Samneua, for some time after Indochina was partitioned in 1954. The anti-Pathet Lao campaign of the new prime minister went rather well, as long as Laos was left to itself.

Vietminh-Trained
Probably the simple fact that Premier Sananikone was making too much progress decided the communists to act. Their announced pretext was the arrival of a 130-man American training mission for the Laotian army. In any case, the communists acted about three weeks ago, using just the same device they used against the French.

In former times, the Vietminh sent recruits across the border into Communist China, to be trained, into fighting units. This time, the Vietminh rules of North Vietnam played the role of the Chinese.

A considerable number of Pathet Lao adherents were sheltered in North Vietnam, armed from the Vietminh arsenals, formed into battalions and trained by the Vietminh army, and stiffened with Vietminh hard core communist leaders. These troops were then sent back across the Laos border three weeks ago to begin guerrilla war.

The force moved in small outfits, probably none larger than company size. The two provinces attacked, the old Pathet Lao strongholds, Phong Saly and Samneua, lack communications, are mountainous, and heavily jungled.

The attack force is small. But in view of the terrain and the natural advantage enjoyed by guerrilla fighters, even this small force constitutes an extremely difficult problem for the Laotian army of 25,000 men. Hence it is too early to form any idea of the probable outcome of the campaign against the invaders.

Invaders Arrogant
Meanwhile, exceedingly arrogant statements, brandishing threats, have been made in the Vietminh capital at Hanoi, and by the Communist government in Peking. Finally, it should be noted that the Vietminh chieftain, Ho Chi Minh, has just been the guest of President Eisenhower's future guest, Nikita S. Khrushchev. Hence it must be assumed that Khrushchev was privy to Ho Chi Minh's plans for Laos.

Just this fact makes the attack on Laos an ugly business. After all, this barefaced communist aggression was launched when Khrushchev was already packing his bags for a White House visit.

Furthermore, there are indications the Vietminh government has additional battalions of alleged patriots to send across the Laos border. If the aggression is thus expanded, the situation can quite easily get out of hand. And if this happens, and nothing is done about it, the results will not be confined to Laos. In fact the partition of Indochina sponsored by the American government will finally turn out to be just what it looked at the time—a delayed-action Munich in Asia.

Conserve Energy Step-Saving Kitchen May Also Save a Heart

Toronto — Save steps are equally helpful in house and live longer, is the advice work. Although the booklet of Dr. John Armstrong, medical was written primarily for eal director of the Heart women with heart disease, it has suggestions for every busy housewife who would like to enjoy extra time and extra energy.

Group Items

Some of them: Pre-positioning equipment, and supplies can save hundreds of steps. Store articles where they are most often used and group things that are used together near a work area.

Seasoning, canned goods, serving dishes and platters should all be stored near the stove where they are to be used.

Soaps, knives and strainers and vegetables that don't need refrigeration should be kept near the sink where they are first used.

Save Steps

Baking ingredients are natural companions for rolling pins, measuring cups, mixing bowls and baking pans.

If lunches are to be prepared, assemble the wax paper, bread and other necessities near the perishable foods used in the lunch.

To save stair climbing, store small things in a box or basket along with the broom, mop and sweeper.

Work simplification can become a game for everyone. in the household and can save up to 60 per cent of the time once spent on a job.

The best way to start is to unclutter the kitchen. Good advice is that "with a bit of drawer searching and soul searching, you can gather together a box full of gadgets you never use. Throw them away."

75 Attend Corn Roast

Rain Saturday night failed to dampen party gaiety of the 75 members of the Badger school PTA who gathered at the Len Gerrits' home, 706 E. Bluemound drive, for the group's second annual corn roast.

Originally planned as a garden party, the event moved "indoors" via means of tarpaulin tent. Volunteers who assisted with its erection were Vinal Strelow, John Berg and Gerrits.

Mrs. John Berg and Hjalmar Gill supervised the corn roast, with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gutschow arranging provisions. Gene Riley was electrician and Mrs. Strelow handled finances.

Games, cards and barber-shop singing were enjoyed during the evening.

Coming events for the PTA include a group attendance at the Altie Theater's production of "Chalk Garden" Monday and the first meeting of the school year at 8 p. m. the fourth Monday in September at the school. Mrs. Berg will preside.

Women's Group Plans Meeting

The Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church will meet at 7:30 p. m. today at the home of Mrs. Merritt Miller, 1118 Nawada court. Speakers will be Miss Suzanne Powers, a member of the church who recently returned from Bengal-Orissa, India, where she was a missionary and teacher at the Baptist Girls' school.

Auxiliary Lists Plans For Card Party

A benefit card party Sept. 22 at the Ambrosia room of the Elm Tree bakery was planned at the Monday evening business meeting of the Oney Johnston-Edward Blessman unit 38 of the American Legion auxiliary. Proceeds will be donated to the building of Outagamie county's School for Trainable Retarded children.

Committee members are Mmes. James Kositz, chairman, Arlin Schnell, Edward Arndt, Jr. and William Brinkman. Tickets are currently being sold and are available from any auxiliary member.

Mrs. Patrick Helser, junior chairman, announced that the handicraft that won first place at the state convention at Kenosha will be sent to the state convention at Minneapolis Aug. 24 to 27 for competition. Mrs. Mary Hamlin, chorus chairman, announced that the first chorus meeting will take place Aug. 27.

Monday evening's social committee included Mmes. Howard Feavel, chairman, Herbert Kluge, Frank Schiedermayer and Miss Jean Feavel.

Planning Weekend Activities for the first state square dance convention to be held in Appleton Aug. 28-30 at the Conway hotel, from left, are Henry Havinga, Kimberly, secretary-treasurer of the Wolf River Dancers association, Clarence C. Dorschner, Oshkosh, chairman of Wolf River Area Caller's association, and Milton B. Thorpe, Madison, chairman of the Forum committee.

Pistol-Packing Policewoman Sheaths Gun for Juvenile Work

Denver — Denver's first woman detective is a college graduate in psychology who packs a pistol but has never used it — except for target practice — in six years of police work.

Mrs. Doris Shelley, an attractive divorcee, went to work for the department because, "I had just graduated from college and needed a job."

She has advanced steadily and recently was appointed a detective.

Juvenile Cases

Mrs. Shelley's past assignments have been mostly investigations for the department's morals, detective and juvenile bureaus on cases involving fortune tellers, gamblers, sex offenders, child molesters and juvenile delinquents.

"I've met a lot of people. I'd never met otherwise," she says.

Her most interesting work, she says, has been on the problem of sex offenders and child molesters because she studied abnormal behavior in college.

Works Incognito

Mrs. Shelley often works incognito checking on gambling at local race tracks, breaking up fortune telling operations and investigating liquor violations.

"There's always danger, but I've never had any trouble in arresting or holding persons," she says.

While she has never used her revolver on a case, she practices target shooting each month.

Her detective assignments will be almost exclusively with delinquent girls, making investigations, pick ups and checking probation violations.

Mrs. Shelley, a native of Indiana, was graduated from the University of Denver in 1953 with a degree in psychology. During undergraduate days she had no intention of going into police work.

"It's very interesting, and I like working with people," she says.

Carl Kuchenbecker of Menasha was elected president and Mrs. Donald Gilson, Winneconne, is secretary-treasurer.

Entertain Guests

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Spreeman, route 1, Appleton, are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sanderson, who recently returned from Sembach Air base in Germany. Mrs. Sanderson is the former Miss Ilse Schuschies, originally from East Prussia.

Your Problems

Teenage Girl Screams, Schemes When Fall Plans Go Awry

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: What shall I do with an 18-year-old girl who recently had a temper tantrum? She stood in the middle of the living room and screamed at the top of her lungs. Fortunate-ly, the city was laying a gas main in front of our home and the pneu-matic drill was going. If it hadn't been for this stroke of luck the neighbors would have heard her for blocks around. She had just seen the mail and was turned down by Barnard college. She tore the letter into small pieces and shrieked "If I'm not accepted by Bennington I may as well get married in September!" I replied "Not this coming September?" It was then that she let loose those blood-curdling screams. Her father was present and he said she has a screw loose because "there's nothing better to do" she is asking for trouble.

DEAR ANN: Our daughter married a hardworking Texan boy. The trouble is he thinks everything we have belongs to him. We have a small grocery store and he comes in three times a week, loads up his car with whatever he wants. Don't bother to tell me and says "Thanks." Somewhat I should have done when she was two, Ann Landers. Tell me what to do now! — Wit's End

DEAR ANN: An 18-year-old who demonstrates such emotional immaturity suggests that Barnard was right. The performance doesn't mean she has a screw loose. It means she regresses to an infantile level to let off steam. Ignore her as you would a 2-year-old who has a tantrum. I hope she won't be so foolish as to marry out of sheer frustration if she doesn't get into Bennington. There are many excellent schools looking for students. Girls who marry because "there's nothing better to do" are asking for trouble.

DEAR ANN: Our daughter married a hardworking Texan boy. The trouble is he thinks everything we have belongs to him. We have a small grocery store and he comes in three times a week, loads up his car with whatever he wants. Don't bother to tell me and says "Thanks." Sometimes our daughter comes with him and helps him lug sacks full of groceries out of our place. I wonder if he thinks just because it's on our shelves, it's free. Doesn't he realize we have to pay for the merchandise? We don't want any hard feelings, but we're fed up. Would we be petty to mention it? — The Folks

DEAR ANN: Tell these two moochers it's not the principle of the thing — it's the money. Offer them whatever they want, at the price you paid. This is plenty generous — and better than they could do anywhere else.

DEAR ANN: Our 3-year-old son walks exactly like his father. Naturally everyone thinks this is cute as the walk is distinctive and can be spotted a half mile off. We got into a discussion about this, and my husband said it's strictly a matter of imitation. I don't agree. My theory is the boy has inherited this characteristic, in the same way he inherited his father's large brown eyes. Who is right? — Momma B.

DEAR ANN: Children don't inherit a walk in the same way they inherit brown eyes — but you're close. What was inherited is the hip and bone construction which produces that walk.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for Ann Landers' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) (Copyright 1959)

Renting Furs Proves Profitable Practice

Miami, Fla. — Need a fur for a night? A fur-leasing firm may be your best friend. Four or five years ago a woman would have felt embarrassed to borrow a fur, says M. Dillon Russell, of Miami's only fur rental business, but nowadays it's a commonly-accepted practice. Russell's clients include all classes, ages, sizes and purses. He receives many requests from women who can afford to buy furs, but find it more convenient to rent.

Special Occasion

His best customers are the wives of businessmen. "These are the women who feel they don't use furs often enough to invest in their own but they do want them for special occasions. Besides, businessmen may take the rentals off their income taxes," he adds.

Renting, Russell insists, is more economical than buying a fur. "First of all, there is no original outfit. There is no worry about depreciation, no insurance, no storage, no upkeep, no remodeling.

Match to Dress

"And, if you want, you can have a different fur every time you change your dress." Rates vary from $5 daily for white bunny to $35 for chinchilla. Russell also offers weekly and monthly rates.

Russell will even meet passengers at the airport with their specified furs.

A native Miamian, Russell once operated a chinchilla ranch, and that's how he got his first knowledge of furs.

Wardrobe Perk-Ups

If your summer wardrobe looks jaded, do not hesitate to refurbish it. There are many weeks of warm weather ahead — weeks when a woman can appear dowdy or delightful, depending largely on the fresh appeal of her clothes.

The most attractive perk-ups from a fashion view have a fall flavor. And merely as a jumping off place for your own ideas, here's a run-down on a few:

Mossy green kid or calf shoes and a matching belt, to wear with pastel or white dresses.

Jel beads and earbobs, as a replacement for pearls, when you wear black day or dinner clothes.

To top off a neutral or dark town outfit, a velvet pill-box in one of the new Renaissance shades.

Or if you wish to go all out, a slim daytime dress of silky paiseley or of transition cotton in brown or gray; in ruby red, a crepe dinner sheath.

Any such choice will prove of more than temporary value. It can be worn with fashion aplomb through the autumn and winter.

In fashion, nothing makes

This particular pair took their time in the bidding up to a point. North was interested in a slam when South reversed and bid two hearts. The only thing that North was worried about was that South might have two small spades. He bid three clubs with the hope that South might bid spades to show a spade holding. When South complied, North jumped directly to a slam in hearts.

Rolling Acres Plat Given Last Approval

153-Lot Sunny Acres Parcel Ordered Revised

The 24-lot Rolling Acres plat owned by Joseph Doerfler received final approval by the city planning commission Monday.

The plat is across the street from an 11-acre park owned by the city. The lots border on S. Jackson street from E. Roeland to E. Hoover avenues, and on Roeland east from Jackson street and on the south by E. Taft avenue.

The commission also approved a tentative 153-lot Sunny Acres plat owned by the Fountain Development corporation. The plat is bounded on the west by S. Kernan avenue, on the east by S. Telulah avenue, on the north by E. Calumet street and on the south by E. Taft avenue.

Rezoning Ordered
The commission ordered two blocks zoned for multiple and double-family dwellings because of the plat's proximity to schools. A request for local business zoning on the corner of Calumet and Kernan was deferred until Aid. Robert J. Stumpf could give his opinion.

The plat includes a slight curve in Telulah avenue and a 30-foot jog in Kernan avenue. The Kernan avenue jog cannot be eliminated because several houses already have been built there.

Derscheid Firm
The firm was incorporated by Vincent K. Derscheid, 328 E. Harris street. A similar plat was turned down two years ago, because the entire area now is zoned as a commercial and light manufacturing district. American Land would rezone much of it into residential districts. The 11 acres not included in the residential subdivision are owned by the Western Condensing division of Foremost Dairies, Inc.

The Confederate veteran has been on the critical list for more than a week. His doctor said death was only a matter of days away.

Issues With Sports Theme Plentiful This Year, Next

BY SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

Collectors who are sports enthusiasts or those who save stamps with sports themes are in luck these days. Many nations, including the United States, have issued or plan to issue sports stamps. And, with the Olympics scheduled for next year, a flock more are in store.

Austria has just issued two special sports stamps. The 1.50-schilling blue green depicts a sprinter and a 1-schilling red violet shows a soccer player in action.

Also issued by Austria was a new 2.40-schilling blue green adhesive commemorating the inauguration of its radio relay system. The design on this one pictures the antenna of the relay station at Zugspitze.

Speaking of sports, Italy has just issued its 1960 Olympics set of five stamps. The 15-lire orange and brown shows a statue. The 25-lire blue and brown depicts the Tower of Campidoglio. The 35-lire brown and yellow pictures old ruins. The 60-lire lilac and brown illustrates the Arch of Constantine. The 110-lire brown and yellow shows another view of old ruins. Each stamp also bears the 5-ring symbol and the inscription "Rome-1960."

Fiji has just issued a new stamp featuring a Kandavu parrot in color. A portrait of Queen Elizabeth and the St. Edward's crown also appear. The Kandavu parrot has a scarlet head and breast with a bright band of azure blue at the nape of the neck. Its back, wings and tail are a brilliant green.

STAMP NOTES. Western Germany has issued a 20-pfennig stamp honoring the 1,000th anniversary of the city of Buxtehude. Greece has issued a colorful set of seven values for the ancient Greek theater. The Netherlands Antilles has issued a special stamp to mark the official opening of the Hotel Aruba Caribbean on the island of Aruba.

Uncle Ray Roses Enjoyed Popularity in Ancient Greek, Roman Days

BY RAMON COFFMAN
Roses have been popular flowers from ancient times down to the present. In ancient Rome it was a custom for men to wear crowns of roses on their heads during banquets.

The Greek goddess known as Aphrodite was said to regard the rose as her favorite flower. She was the goddess of love and beauty, and the Romans called her Venus.

Q. Which are the main kinds of roses?
A. That is a rather hard question to answer, but roses have been divided into three main groups—those which grow on bushes, those which climb, and those which "creep on the ground."

Some roses are excellent climbers. If they have proper support, they will spread over stone walls, or will climb the sides of cottages or houses. Others climb poles, and have the special name of "pillar roses."

Creeping roses will creep, or ramble, over a wide stretch of ground, with the passing of years.

Early in the past century, a collection was made of all the kinds of roses which could be located. About 250 kinds of roses were planted in the gardens of the French empress.

Since that time, gardeners have produced many new kinds. Thousands of varieties exist today.

Q. What was the origin of "tea roses?"
A. They were produced, in the first place, in gardens of southern China. They were given the name because their smell was something like that of fresh, crushed tea leaves.

A sailing vessel carried a number of the plants from the Orient to Great Britain 170 years ago. Since then, various varieties of tea roses have been grown in Europe and North America.

The Law and You
Presence, Intent Needed to Establish Person's 'Home'

With today's rapid transportation, people are moving around the country seeking better places to live. Some folks are on the go all the time. They may be considered citizens of the world or knights of the road. What is their state citizenship or domicile?

This is not merely an interesting academic question. It often is a difficult legal problem of vital importance to parties involved in litigation. Federal courts have jurisdiction of civil cases where there is a diversity of citizenship between the parties. Citizenship has to be proved. In many other legal situations the citizenship or domicile of an individual is the key factor.

Generally speaking, two facts are necessary to acquire domicile: Physical presence of the person in the place claimed as the domicile, and the intention of making that place his home. When these two facts are concurrent, the change in domicile is instantaneous. Intent can be indicated by such acts as registering for voting, purchasing a dwelling, or obtaining license plates.

It is not necessary to intend to live in that place permanently.

Prange Move Scheduled For Oct. 24

The H. C. Prange company will move into its new store about Oct. 24, if all goes well with construction, manager William H. Pfifer announced.

The move is expected to take two or three days. The first five floors of the 6-story addition will be turned over to merchandise. The sixth floor will be devoted to office space, Pfifer indicated. A children's shoe department will be the only department added.

Pfifer said that new fixtures would be added gradually, and that the old ones would serve temporarily. Decorating will not be completed until both sections of the store are finished. The new building will be served only by elevators until it is finished, then escalators will be installed.

The present Prange building, an Appleton landmark since 1880, will be demolished some time in November, Pfifer said.

The department store also will move into the Rio theater building by Sept. 15. Workmen have installed a new floor and are decorating the interior. Pfifer says the Rio building will house appliance, television, phonograph records, Christmas trimming and toy departments.

Our Children

Child May Dislike Food For Variety of Reasons

BY ANGELO PATRI

For lunch there were nice noodles, light as air, at least, Benji's mother thought they were nice. He didn't. He looked at them gloomily and pushed them aside as he began on the meat cake that was brown and capped with a dab of ruddy tomato sauce.

"Now Benji, do eat those nice noodles. I cooked them especially for you. How can you expect to play a good game this afternoon if you don't eat a good meal?"

"Aw, Mom, I don't like them." "Why don't you like them?" "Am, I don't know. I know there's nothing the matter with them only I just don't like them."

That is at the bottom of many a distaste for "perfectly good food." There's nothing the matter with it, but the child—and often the adult—who refuses a dish just doesn't like it. Why? There could be any one of a host of reasons. Maybe it does not have a pleasant smell. The odor of a dish can be so pleasant as to attract appetite. A good smell from the kitchen can make all the difference in the world to those who are to eat the food. Browning meat, baking bread or the perfume of a dish carefully flavored with an herb will waken an appetite.

Bright Color

Color has a great deal to do with sharpening appetite. When Benji's mother cooked green noodles and put bright, good-smelling tomato sauce on them he got right to work on them and cleaned his plate. He "liked" them. First that good smell in the kitchen and then the pretty colors on his plate reached that place where man is fed and not by bread alone. That does count largely in eating pleasure.

Sight and smell are great helps to appetite and so are associations. A small boy not only refused to eat beans one evening at dinnertime but was sick and had to leave the room when they were served. After much questioning, remembering and insistence on his mother's part, the reason appeared. A relative who had taken charge of the house and its small boy had forced him to eat such beans one day because she had "warmed them over nicely and they had to be eaten to save them." His mother skipped that particular dish for a while.

There can be so many reasons why a "growing child" who should eat heartily refuses a food that others accept happily that one must explore the situation well before "taking steps." Emotions, what we usually call feelings, are very important in relation to food. Soothe these feelings, favor them by using smell, color, taste and service. Troublesome, maybe, but so worthwhile.

Deny Request For Rezoning

Property Owners' Petition Sways Planning Commission

A request to rezone 1400 W. Prospect avenue from a residential to local business area was refused Monday by the city planning commission.

Max Bauer, owner of the property, said he plans to raze his 60-year-old home there and erect a small local supermarket.

The request was denied on the petition of 16 neighbors, who said they do not want any more business in the area.

Bauer claimed much of the block already is given over to commercial and light manufacturing enterprises, including all the land west and north. He said the neighborhood has depreciated because many teenage drivers "ram" around the triangle all night. "I can't rest, it's so noisy," he said.

Loves His Home

Bauer asked Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings, who presented the petition, why the petitioners signed. "Because they love their homes," Mrs. Stillings answered. "I love my home, too," answered Bauer, "but I'm not standing in the way of progress."

The committee approved the request of the Appleton YMCA to rezone the Lawrence conservatory property on the corner of S. Morrison and E. Lawrence streets from a residential to commercial and light manufacturing zone. Alfred H. Johnson, YMCA general secretary, said the land would be used as a parking lot, paying property taxes.

Ald. Kenneth Priebe's request to amend the official map to show Fairway court extended to Shaw street was approved. The change will permit installing a circulating water main.

Gordon Schiffer and Leo Santkuy's request for rezoning the lots from 520 to 532 N. Appleton street from multiple family to commercial districts. Property surrounding the lots all is zoned for commercial purposes. The owners would authorize construction of "a nice, clean business," Nygren realtors said.

Valley Realty company's request to rezone the west side of N. Meade street between E. Randall street and E. Wisconsin avenue from a residential to commercial district was approved, with a

Tipsy Drivers Pay Penalties

Two Drivers Fined, Other Forfeits; All Lose Right to Drive

Three men were sentenced for drunken driving Monday and today.

Lawrence E. Ziereis, route 2, Clintonville, was fined $200 for drunken driving when he pleaded guilty Monday before Justice George Whalen.

Ziereis was arrested by county police Sunday evening in the town of Matteson after they found his car parked on the traveled portion of Highway 156. Ziereis also was convicted of drunken driving in 1954.

Erling F. Scharbus, Merrill, forfeited $118.95 bond today in municipal court.

He was arrested by the state patrol at 12:40 a.m. Monday on Highway 10, a mile west of Highway 76.

Scharbus tested .21 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Both men's drivers' licenses were revoked a year.

Eero Pera, 52, Waukegan, Ill., entered plea of no contest through an attorney. Judge S. J. Luehsinger fined Pera $100 for drunken driving and revoked his driver's license for 1 year.

Pera was arrested at 2:30 a.m. July 28 by sheriff's deputies after he was observed driving erratically on Highway 41 in the town of Nekimi.

Appleton Nun Takes First Vows as Sister of St. Agnes

Sister Mary Theodine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Harjes, 825 E. Grant street, was among 22 nuns who took their first vows as Sisters of St. Agnes in profession ceremony at the St. Agnes convent chapel in Fond du Lac Saturday.

The former Caryl Harjes will spend her juniorate at St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, and will work towards a degree in nursing.

Sister Theodine is a graduate of St. Theresa Catholic school, Appleton High school and the St. Agnes School of Nursing, Fond du Lac.

She was a registered nurse before entering the convent.

Hearing Set Wednesday On Depot Site

Urban P. Van Susteren, Appleton attorney, who started a 1-man action against location of the Chicago and North Western railway depot at Appleton Junction, today called all interested persons to attend a public service commission hearing on the depot at 11 a.m. Wednesday at city hall.

Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell will be a witness to the proceedings, which started in late July. Van Susteren's petition to the commission claims the relocated depot, formerly downtown, is inconvenient to a great majority of passengers, the change has resulted in no substantial public good, the act of relocating the depot and practice of stopping trains only at the relocated depot are unreasonable and service to the public is inadequate.

Van Susteren expects to have representatives from all large commercial and industrial organizations in the area present. The chamber of commerce has retained David Bliss as its attorney to assist in returning the depot to Oneida and North streets, he added.

The railway company moved from its downtown site to the junction after a quarrel with the city administration over blocking of Appleton's two north and south 1-way streets, Oneida and Appleton. Several conductors were arrested and fined.

Auto Crashes, Tree Involved In Law Suit

Kiel Man Killed When Car Hits Tri-County Marker

A century-old elm tree, the center of litigation involving Fond du Lac, Sheboygan and Calumet counties stemming from an automobile accident in 1956, was involved in a fatal car crash Monday.

Arthur J. Pethan, 44, Kiel, was killed when his car went out of control on Fond du Lac County Trunk Q and struck the tree. He was alone in the car.

His death raised the state traffic toll for the year to 465 compared with 491 on this date a year ago.

The tree is the county marker at the tri-county corner and is preserved in the middle of the road as a landmark and curiosity.

Last December, a circuit court jury found the three counties 75 per cent liable in an accident, July 21, 1956, in which Gerald Kornetzke, 25, Milwaukee, a former rural Elkhardt Lake resident, drove his car into the tree and suffered foot injuries.

The three counties have appealed the decision and the appeal is to be heard by the supreme court after Oct. 6. In his ruling in December, Circuit Judge Helmut Arps recommended to the three counties they chop down the "liberty tree."

Correction

The brakes of Mrs. James Backhaus' car, involved in a 2-car crash at Spring and Morrison streets Saturday afternoon, did not fail, Mrs. Backhaus, 226 E. Wisconsin avenue, said today.

She did not see the other car coming and swerved at the last minute to try to avoid the crash, going over the curb, brushing a tree, finally striking the house of Miss Doris Storm, 1102 N. Morrison street, Mrs. Backhaus said.

Police Issue Warning

Appleton police said today they issued warnings to occupants of an automobile which was driven recklessly through Linwood park and the park baseball diamond Monday night. No damage was reported to the park.

To Your Good Health

Wife Right to be Concerned;
Sinus, Cough Symptomatic

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 46, smoke two packs of cigarettes a day, drink about 18 cups of coffee, and eat no fruit and very little vegetables. I feel O.K. but I do have sinus trouble and cough all the time and a lot. My wife is concerned over my coughing. Can you convince her she is wrong? — N.W."

No. I wouldn't even try, because she's so obviously right.

Between us, I'm not sure whether you really wrote this letter, or whether your wife wrote it, hoping that you will see it and thus see yourself as you are.

You overload your system with caffeine and nicotine, not to mention carbon monoxide and tars. With no fruit and few vegetables, you certainly are not giving your system half a chance to absorb the vitamins you need.

Your system warns you with "sinus trouble" and, more particularly, the cough.

The sneezing — well, I don't know. That might be incidental but the purpose of a sneeze is to clear the air passages of some sort of irritant. You may be allergic to something or other, and it may have no connection with the rest of your troubles.

If you think I'm reading the riot act to you, then I admire your perspicacity. I am.

Rugged Constitution
Good health is like a plant or plants, whether a rose bush, an onion patch or a field of corn. You can plant any of these in fairly good soil, and you'll get a crop of blossoms or vegetables.

The soil is patient. Plant life is patient and long-suffering. But a worn-out garden or worn-out farm, that has been deprived too long of its proper fertilizer, and subjected too often to abuse, finally shows the effects.

The fact that you "feel O.K." despite your cough, sneezes and sinus trouble, is a tribute to your originally rugged constitution. It does not mean that you will get away indefinitely with the sort of thing you are doing.

You have a wife who loves you enough to care about your health. You've been fortunate so far in avoiding the more serious consequences of your sort of eating and living.

Why don't you be thankful for your good fortune, and stop tempting "luck" too far? Because, unless you make a few moderate changes, your luck is going to run out.

Can I say it any plainer?

Daily Cocktail

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to have a cocktail daily before dinner? Other than calorie-wise? — C.S."

I don't think it is harmful at all — except that, as you know, a cocktail is loaded with calories. This answer may be resented by groups which oppose alcohol, but you asked for my opinion and there it is. But on the other side of the fence, I cannot conscientiously give that answer without remarking that one cocktail has a habit of becoming two, and two becoming four. Remember that, too.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is the treponema pallidum mobilization (TPI) test still used? — H. R."

The TPI test (for the organism which causes syphilis) is still used but it takes a long time and is expensive. The RPR (Reiter protein complement fixation) is used more often. We use it, for example in the Detroit Health department. The TPI (treponema pallidum complement fixation) also is more often used than the T-field of corn. You can plant PI.

Why suffer from sinus trouble? Much can be done to help you, and it is explained in my booklet, "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble." To receive your copy, write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Joint Facility Use Furthered By 2 Boards

Involves 14½ Acres In Clovis-Grove School, Park Area

Menasha — Joint use and provision of facilities was furthered Monday in a meeting of the board of education and the park and recreation board.

Boundaries between the park — dedicated land and park area adjoining Clovis-Grove school were clarified for both boards. In April, the board of education and city council dedicated the land used by the school for school purposes. The remaining land will be dedicated for park use, according to city plans.

The school takes about 7½ acres, and the park, 7. The park land so far has not been dedicated by the council.

To avoid duplication, restrooms and some storage space in Clovis-Grove and the new Sixth street schools will be available to those using the parks near the schools.

Also planned is blacktopping some park and school land, with combination basketball-tennis courts on part of it. The school portion would have two courts, and the park the same number. Four additional tennis courts have been requested by the park and recreation board, but the problem has been placement and financing.

Supt. of Schools M. J. Geagan will arrange to have the high school swimming pool open in fall, winter and spring for limited recreation use.

Next year's capital outlay budget was reviewed. The tentative budget is to be ready for study by the park and recreation board by Sept. 8.

A softball diamond in Jefferson park was authorized by the board.

Twin City Deaths

Carl Simonson

Neenah — Carl Simonson, 74, of Larsen, a retired carpenter, died at 10:15 p.m. Monday after a long illness. He was born April 27, 1885 at Lewiston in Columbia county and lived at Rio and in Neenah for many years. Since 1946 he had lived at Larsen.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at Grace Lutheran church at Winchester with the Rev. Richard Rem in charge. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Westgor Funeral home from 5 p.m. Wednesday to 10 a.m. Thursday and after that at the church.

Survivors are a brother, Daniel of Duluth, Minn., and two sisters, Mrs. Clara Nelson of Portage and Mrs. Fred Windus of Duluth.

Autos Collide at Neenah Intersection

Neenah — Two cars were damaged in an accident at the intersection of Pine and Second streets and E. Doty avenue at 1:47 p.m. Monday, according to police.

Vehicles involved were driven by Lloyd J. McCrary, 61, 733 Congress place and Ronald M. Gassner, 19, 800 W. Seventh street, Kaukauna.

School Head Names Neenah High Faculty

8 Special Instructors Also on Staff, Classes Open Officially on Sept. 10

Neenah — A faculty of 40 high school instructors and eight special teachers has been named for the fall school term at Neenah, according to Harold Mennes, superintendent.

The eight special teachers will divide time between elementary and high school classes.

School is scheduled to open officially Thursday, Sept. 10. Orientation days for the faculty have been set for Sept. 8 and 9, Mennes said.

Officials serving with Mennes include Donald Scott, curriculum coordinator; H. O. Borgen, high school principal, and Mary E. Willis, elementary supervisor.

Four Members of Oshkosh Family Hurt in Mishap

Oshkosh — Four members of the Theodore A. Rosseter family of Oshkosh received minor injuries when their car went off Highway 44 in the town of Utica Monday afternoon in an attempt to avoid hitting two boys on bicycles.

Rosseter, 28, received a lacerated left wrist; his wife, Shirley, had contusions of the left shoulder; their 4-year-old daughter, Lucinda, contusions of the right ribs; and David, 14, abrasions of the scalp and contusions. All were taken to Mercy hospital in the Miller ambulance and released after treatment.

Rosseter said he was going southwest on Highway 44 when he saw David Omarow, 8, and his brother, James, 11, route 2, Oshkosh, enter the highway from the north. To avoid hitting them, Rosseter's car went into the ditch on the right side, back across the highway and rolled over. The boys said they didn't see the car coming because of a cornfield.

Jail Man, 19, in Lieu of His Fine

Menasha — Harold L. Meyer, 19, 225 High street, Neenah, today began serving a 20-day sentence in the Winnebago County jail in lieu of payment of a $25 fine plus court costs.

Monday he pleaded guilty of "going through cars and trespassing" before Police Justice Arthur J. Ales. The charge is thus listed on the police arrest sheet.

Police Chief Peter P. Clark today said the charge was disorderly conduct, stemming from breaking several windows on Water street.

Meyer, Francis Koerner, also 19, 82 Fox street, and a juvenile boy were arrested Friday after allegedly rifling cars parked on the Marathon parking lot.

Leaves Winneconne For Hawaii Vacation

Winneconne — Miss Rosette Lund left Monday morning for Los Angeles where she will join friends and fly to Hawaii for a vacation.

Miss Lola White had as her guests this weekend Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Watson and son, Donald of Tripoli and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Watson, Milwaukee. They attended the Anderson family reunion at Oshkosh.

Sales Tax?

Expenses Outrun Tax Capacity; See Need for Revised System

Oshkosh — State expenditures are far outstripping state tax capacity and will inevitably require a fundamental revision of the Wisconsin revenue system, the Oshkosh Kiwanis club was told here this noon.

John Wynagaard, long time state capitol correspondent of the Appleton Post-Crescent and Green Bay Press-Gazette, predicted that the tax increases required during the next two years, in personal income tax equivalent, would be so burdensome that both political parties of the state will hesitate to sponsor them.

The outlook is for increasingly serious consideration of a sales tax in some form in the immediate future, the political writer said.

Seek Alternates The search is on for alternatives and the new administration has kept the door open for a sales tax, Wynagaard said, reporting on the studies of the tax impact study commission recently named by Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Wynagaard attributed the state's financial dilemma to the commitment of both political parties to steadily rising public service expenditures, as the population trend of the state shows persons in public service dependent categories are increasing more rapidly than are those in the tax-paying position.

State expenditures have been rising at the rate of 20 per cent biennially, which in current terms means an $80,000,000 to $100,000,000 jump.

The state financial problem and the record of the governor and the legislature in dealing with it in the final legislative session in the fall will dominate state political arguments next year, the reporter suggested.

Ambassador's Wife Must Change Homes as Gypsy, Skins as Chameleon

BY DOROTHY ROE

AP Newsfeatures Writer

The first need of an ambassador's wife is the ability to laugh — particularly at herself, says Mrs. Everett F. Drumright, wife of the United States ambassador to Free China.

"The successful distaff diplomat," she says, "must have the ability to change homes like a gypsy and change skins like a chameleon — from hard-boiled manager to charming hostess and from gardening dungarees to flowing dinner gowns. Fortunately I was born part gypsy, but I had to acquire the other attributes."

As official hostess at the American Embassy in Taipei, Formosa, Florence Teets Drumright has made a long hop from Milledgeville, Ill., where she was born the daughter of a harness maker, George Teets. But she retains the wide-eyed outlook of the small town girl who set out to see the world — and did.

I first met Florence on a weekend trip to London some 10 years ago. It was her first trip abroad — and it merely whetted her appetite. She rushed back to New York, quit her job with Boeing Aircraft and started writing travel books. It was on her third trip around the world that she met Everett Drumright, also a small town boy from Drumright, Okla., then consul general at Hong Kong.

After the wedding Florence had to learn the art of being an international hostess, representing her country in one of the world's most cosmopolitan ports. From Hong Kong to Taipei was another major step. I wondered how the girl from Illinois had adjusted to the demands of an ambassador's wife in the strife-torn Orient, and so conducted an interview by letter. I had asked her how it felt to be an ambassador's wife, and she replied:

Busy Schedule
"Most of the time there just isn't time to feel much of anything. An ambassador's wife is always racing to keep up with her schedule, and while one gets used to it, I rarely catch up to it. Of course I feel very proud of our country and the part we are playing in advancing freedom in this part of the world. But I also feel very humble about how little I know, and how little my countrymen know, of the great history and culture of our host country."

"I am grateful to be able to serve in local welfare and charities. Often I am sad at the misunderstandings of different nationalities. However, fortunately the Chinese and Americans share pretty much the same sense of humor and many problems are solved with a smile."

Studies Chinese
Mrs. Drumright rises at 6 o'clock every morning and spends an hour before breakfast studying Chinese, which she describes as "a very tricky language." After breakfast there's another Chinese lesson, and two days a week an extra hour of conversation. Then shopping at the commissary, going to the airport to meet visiting dignitaries, planning menus, gardening, decorating, designing, studying, says Florence:

"Which brings up the clothes problem. An ambassador's wife is always on stage. It's amazing how many people I remember what dress, hat and even earrings you wore at last year's Easter service or Fourth of July party. Taipei is not as dressy as Hong Kong, but still there is constant shopping and fitting. My Fuss, vice president; Bruce Bondow, secretary, and Carl of Sauer, treasurer.

The young people are planning their program for the coming year around Christian vocations, evangelism, missions, social action and recreation.

List Hints For Cooks

Oshkosh — One way to avoid kitchen cuts, is placing fruits and vegetables on a wood counter or board for cutting. This will prevent cutting toward your fingers, says Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

When you are canning corn, cut the kernels off by bracing the ear against a firm surface and stripping the kernels away from you.

When using a pressure cooker, always let steam flow freely from the valve for seven to ten minutes to eliminate all air pockets. Otherwise the food may be underprocessed and may oxidize or discolor.

If you bake cake a great deal, your pans may become seasoned so the cakes come out easily. If in doubt, grease the bottom of the pan, line with waxed, brown or parchment paper, then grease the paper.

Use various fillings in stuffed tomatoes for salad lunches. Try filling the hollowed-out cavities with cut cooked snap beans marinated in French dressing; cream style cottage cheese mixed with finely cut radishes and cucumber; or hard-cooked egg salad with minced anchovies.

Add diced glace cherries and pineapple to vanilla ice cream and you will have frozen pudding. Have the ice cream soft, but not melted, so you can fold in the fruit. Then freeze firm.

Society Head Quits

Wittenberg — Mrs. Elroy Brocker resigned as president of Group 3 of St. John Lutheran Ladies Aid society. She is moving to Milwaukee. Ladies Aid society members of the Aniwa and Birnamwood churches were guests at the last meeting.

Nations observance will meet at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in the dining room of the YWCA.

Participating organizations include Neenah-Menasha League of Women Voters, American Association of University Women, United Church Women of Neenah-Menasha, Twin City Business and Professional Women's club and the YWCA.

U.S.A." produced by Foley. Her full name is Norma Jean Beasler and she was raised in the little town of Welliston, Okla. The real start of her singing career was in the children's choir of her hometown Baptist church.

Laugh Gelter

Uncle Cyp is the laugh getting headline of the show and was lured out of retirement for a "one time only" guest appearance in 1955. Born Laurence Lamarr Brasfield in 1893 near Smithville, Miss., he left his father's cotton and corn farm at the age of 14 to join a stock company touring the deep south. Board Lowers Assessments Of Properties

Adjourns Until 1960; Brin Building Assessment Cut

Menasha — Assessments against two properties were lowered Monday by the board of review before it adjourned until next year. A third property tax assessment was left intact.

The board, agreeing with the owners of the Brin theater building that it was assessed too high, lowered the tax assessment from $185,000 to $158,100, including land.

The theater building's assessment earlier this year was reduced to $164,500 by Assessor Tom Zeminger because of the deteriorated condition of the bowling alleys in the basement. A renovation program is planned next spring.

The total assessment was $243,900 in 1949. It was lowered for 1957 taxes to $218,700.

The old Valley theater, closed several years, was left at $20,000. Last year, it was reduced from $30,000. Ten years ago, the assessment was $45,000, and in 1957, it went down to $40,000. The building, if it were to be used again as a theater, would need extensive remodeling, not economically feasible with the decline in theater business in the last 10 years.

A $550 assessment reduction was made on the home of Edward V. Hirsch, 655 Lake Crest drive, to $9,800 from $10,350. His request for reduced assessment was based on other properties similar to his house.

All assessments are figured to be 70 per cent of full value, under the present system in Menasha.

In a third mishap vehicles driven by James F. Lenz, 29, 648 Hansen street, and Byron E. Sauer, 22, route 2, Shawano, collided in the 100 block of N. Commercial street at 8:32 p.m. Friday.

Derber's wife, Judy, 18, is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Felker, 1518 Fox street. They said Derber had been passing the house on his motorcycle and in a station wagon during the evening and about 12:30 they heard what they thought was a shot.

Oshkosh police arrested Derber about 1:28 a.m. and he told them he had thrown a firecracker on the porch.

Planners Want To Make Tokyo
Modern GiantWould Reclaim Part Of Bay Area for International City

Tokyo — A group of Tokyo planners wants to change the face of their city so it can continue as the largest in the world without strangling to death.

Whether or not the blueprint ever is followed through, it makes pleasant reading for the eight million or more residents of Tokyo. They fight traffic jams on the city's narrow streets and perspire in its overcrowded trains and buses. They scramble to find apartments. They even have trouble staying on the sidewalks on busy shopping days downtown.

The ambitious project, which would include reclaiming 165,000 acres of land from Tokyo bay, was presented to government ministries by the council for industrial planning, a private research group whose recommendations officials generally study carefully.

The plan would cost more than one billion dollars and take 30 years. Tokyo is expected to have more than 14 million people within half that time.

The project chairman, Hisaaki Kano, wants Tokyo to become an industrial center not only for Japan but for all of Asia. He said the changes must be made if Japan is to recapture its share of world trade, dropped from 4 percent in 1938 to 2.7 percent now.

He warned that if nothing is done, "Tokyo will soon be filled by uncontrolled factory areas and slums."

Take 15 Years

The first part of the land-reclamation project would take 15 years, Kano said. By the time it is finished, two-thirds of Tokyo bay would be reclaimed and the site of a modern "international city," city and trade center.

A network of trunk highways, either elevated or underground, would criss-cross the government and private city. Heliports would dot the city. The city ports would take five years alone.

Construction Industry as Yet Unhurt by Long Steel Strike

BY SAM DAWSON
New York—The Nation's construction industry—mainstay during the recession and bellwether of the recovery—reports home projects halted or being delayed by the steel strike.

But the majority of builders and their suppliers say they either have all the steel they need for current projects or have supplies good for one to four months more.

A check throughout the nation by Associated Press reporters, however, reveals wide variations in supplies among firms and a growing fear that some special steel products may run out or that some suppliers or parts may run into trouble and thus grind operations to a halt.

Steel Substitutes

Also some firms are turning to substitutes for steel, paying higher prices for premium steel, or importing from Europe and Japan.

Projects already halted or forgot to get it out of the mill before the pickets arrived.

In Buffalo, a major steel producing center, the strike is holding up work on a bridge over the Buffalo river.

Precast Concrete

A 2-mile road job near Jacksonville, Fla., has been halted. An Orlando, Fla., contractor decided to use precast concrete instead of steel in a department store. The Smith Steel Construction company of Jacksonville says it may have to cut its work force if the strike continues till Labor day.

Detroit also reports some architects and engineers are talking of switching to stressed concrete beams.

Oakland, Calif., reports a department store addition may be delayed, and perhaps a new $4 million high school for which bidding was planned for next month.

And in the steel capital of Pittsburgh there was talk for a time that work on the civic auditorium, which is to have a movable stainless steel roof, might be slowed down. The city fathers, however, say they aren't worried.

Skill Needed to Collect Insects

BY CLARA HUSSONG

Green Bay—A butterfly net may be nothing more than the subject of a joke to many people, but to the insect collector it is a necessity. Entomologists will tell you that insects are the most fascinating things in the world, and that if you made them a lifetime hobby, you couldn't get to know all that are found right in your own neighborhood.

Insects are found everywhere—in your garden and on your lawn; in fields and along roadsides, in woods and deserts; along waterways, and even in and on water. Some live in buildings and cellars, and others in mines.

There are several pieces of equipment you will need if you want to collect and preserve insects. Besides the net, you will need a killing jar, a spreading board, and a display case. A magnifying glass, a pair of small forceps and several other items are a help.

The ring of the net should be of strong, springy wire, and its diameter should be 12 or 15 inches. The handle should be three or four feet long, and the net itself two or three feet deep, and coming to a point. Cheesecloth or mosquito netting will serve the purpose as far as material goes, but professionals prefer a strong nylon net.

Wide-Mouthed Jar

Next on the list is the killing jar. This is a wide-mouthed glass jar into which you pop your captured insect. A cyanide preparation was formerly used, but professionals prefer a strong nylon net.

Professional entomologists remove their specimens from the jar shortly after they've pronounced them dead. They put them in paper envelopes—real ones, or home-made ones of newspaper. They usually handle the insects with forceps, being careful not to squeeze and ruin them.

At home, the insects are put on a spreading board. This is a board with a groove in it, into which the body of the insect is put. Mounting pins are used to pin the body in place, and to arrange wings, antenna and other body parts in a lifelike position. Strips of paper are placed over the wings and antenna to hold them flat against the raised part of the board.

As soon as the specimens are thoroughly dried out, they are ready to be put in the display case—any box or frame lined with cork or corrugated paper, and topped with a glass cover.

Those who have insect collecting as a hobby will tell you that it's lots of fun, but it takes practice to do it right. Even "flipping the net" (tilting it after an insect has been caught in it to prevent its escape)—is an art.

Baby Injured in Brillion Crash

Brillion—A 19-month-old girl was injured in a 2-car collision Saturday morning at Main and Jackson streets.

Damages amounted to $400 when a car driven by Edward Keller, Brillion, and a car driven by Mrs. Janet Ohlson, rural route, Hilbert, collided. Keller pulled out from a stop sign in front of the other vehicle, Police Chief Delos Reynolds said.

The girl, Mrs. Ohlson's daughter, suffered a bruised forehead and cut tongue when she hit the windshield which shattered.

But in most of the country the construction companies are whistling cheerful tunes.

Among those claiming no steel problems at all are: Kentucky's state building program directors; Williamsburg, Va., builders at the college of William and Mary; Illinois state project administrators; and Denver school builders.

Three to six months supplies of steel are reported by: South Florida builders, the Orleans Material and Equipment company of New Orleans; Oklahoma City and Tulsa contractors; the Mississippi Valley Structural Steel company at St. Louis; and a majority of Texas builders.

Rockefeller's Record

New York Governor Insists On Pay-as-You-Go Financing

BY CHARLES DUMAS

Albany, N. Y. — What sort of governor is Nelson Rockefeller?

There is a no simple answer for those who hear Rockefeller touted as a good Republican candidate for president and wonder what sort of record he's made in Albany.

It depends on personal evaluation of a bouncy extrovert who thinks and acts big.

After Rockefeller's for six months in office, Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse appraised him this way:

"He has proved that he is a leader of principle and performance as well as personality. He has made monumental progress."

Democratic Chairman Michael H. Friedlander delivered this judgment:

"The Rockefeller Republican administration has shown unenviable ability to misrepresent the people. The Rockefeller failure has been monumental."

They agree only on an adjective, "monumental."

That's not so surprising because Rockefeller appears to have the drive of his billionaire grandfather, the late John D. Rockefeller.

The 51-year-old governor does things in the grand manner, with sweep, daring and imagination. He has lived up to his campaign billing as a man of action.

This image is imprinted clearly on his developing record as governor. It is this record that eventually will provide the answer to the big question.

During his campaign last fall, the philanthropist-turned-politician made one large promise, from which all other campaign promises stemmed. That was that he would stimulate the economy of the state to new growth, thus providing more job opportunities and a higher standard of living for all.

Rockefeller's first budget certainly could be described as monumental. Few taxpayers are likely to forget it, at least for a while.

$2 Billion Budget

Only a month in office, the governor proposed the first $2 billion budget in the state's history. He called for the greatest round of tax increases ever — $277 million — to finance it.

In this first budget, Rockefeller took a firm stand for pay-as-you-go financing and clung to it stubbornly through weeks of battling and battling until he won his point.

When state spending overtook revenue, Rockefeller's Democratic predecessors or W. Averell Harriman, balanced his budget by dipping into reserve funds and floating bonds. Rockefeller conceivably could have avoided tax increases by more of the same.

As it was, he had to use $127 million in bonds and reserves, but he drew the line there. His plan, he said, was to return to pay-as-you-go by this year — he hopes — completely next year.

"I know this is not a popular budget," he said, "but I have a duty to the people. To continue the old policies would invite fiscal disaster. We would be mortgaging the future of our state."

They have suggested that he imposed more taxes than necessary this year so he could fully could offer cutbacks in 1960—the presidential election year.

Rockefeller already is at work to regain any ground he has lost. He is assembling a 1960 fiscal-legislative program aimed at doing the trick.

New Yorkers may or may not like the program. But they can bet that it will show daring, sweep and imagination. It will be the last one before the presidential nominating convention.

Lake Land Owners Urge Boat Control

Federation Hears Legislators Report On Passage of Bill

East Troy—Gov. Nelson was urged to sign the boating control bill and the pollution committee was urged to press its work on inland lakes when the Federation of Wisconsin Lakes Property Owners association talked here.

State Sen. Trinke and Assemblyman Clemens explained their fight for the passage of the control bill and warned of efforts of the transient boat-owning associations to weaken its provisions.

The federation also asked the governor to consider its membership in making appointments to the conservation commission.

Step Up Fight

The legislators told the federation the transient boating interests are expected to step up their fight against the boat control bill during the 1961 session.

Sen. Trinke said the professional lobbyists hired by the boating interests were the "shrewdest and best financed lobbyists I have seen in my 11 years in the senate."

Don't Compete

However, he recommended the federation improve its leadership and members for individual presentations of its views rather than attempting to compete in hiring lobbyists.

Trinke said possible passage of a boat tax bill in 1961 may provide funds to and make maintenance, now born by lake property owners.

Plans Started For Opening of Football Drills

Galloping Ghost Coach Announces 1959 Schedule

Kaukauna — Plans are underway for the opening of football drills at Kaukauna High school as Coach Fred Barrieau released the schedule for this fall.

Opening sessions will be held at 8:30 a.m., Aug. 31 when players will assemble in the school study hall in street clothing for briefing on rules and regulations for the year. After issuance of uniforms, mild calisthenics and loosening up drills will be held at 1:30 p.m.

The first few days will be confined mostly to conditioning, according to the coach. Barrieau hopes to be able to schedule a few two-a-day drills prior to the start of school. Some scrimmages may also be arranged with area schools after the boys have progressed sufficiently.

Seven Lost

Barrieau lost seven players by graduation last year but is aided by the return of 13 lettermen including some at key positions. All Kaukauna's home games will be night contests starting at 8 p.m. with the exception of the 7:30 p.m. start of the homecoming tilt against New London on Oct. 16.

Sheboygan North will invade Kaukauna Sept. 19 in the non-loop opener and on Oct. 25 the Neenah Rockets will open Mid-East play here. Kaukauna will travel to Two Rivers for a 7:30 p.m. game on Oct. 2.

The Galloping Ghosts will visit Shawano for an 8 p.m. game on Oct. 9 and after the homecoming play at Menasha at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 23. Clintonville will play here Oct. 30 to conclude the home season and

Klubbers Meet Manitowoc in FVBB Loop Tilt

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna Klubbers will resume Fox Valley baseball loop competition after drawing a bye Sunday when they tangle with the strong Manitowoc squad at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Manitowoc.

The Klubbers, after tying for first round honors and losing in a play-off, have had a little more trouble in second half competition and currently hold a 3-2 record. It is unlikely the Klubbers will have a chance to get back into the running for second half honors as the Little Chute-Kimberly entry and Menasha Maes are undefeated as the season nears an end.

Coach Jerry Klarer will have Joe Van Linn or Bill Lappen available for mound duty. Kaukauna has two home games remaining before competition ends.

Fourth Thilmany Golfing Jamboree Planned Sept. 1

Kaukauna — The fourth annual Thilmany Golfing jamboree will be held Sept. 1 at Fox Valley Golf club with a 7 p.m. banquet to conclude activities.

Plans call for a trophy and three golf balls to be given as first prize, nine golf balls for second prize, six balls for third prize, three for fourth prize and three practice balls for the person with the highest score.

Special prizes of golf balls will be given for the longest putt on No. 2 green, closest to the pin on No. 3, longest drive on No. 5 and the largest handicap. The Callaway system of handicapping will be used and separate events will be for men and women.

Open to all Thilco employees, nine holes must be played with at least two entrants playing together. Foursomes are preferred for golf rounds. Golfers unable to compete Sept. 1 will be permitted to play a round anytime between Aug. 28 and Sept. 1 but they must declare at the clubhouse before teeing off that they are about to play the jamboree round.

Scores must be attested by a person accompanying and turned in at the completion of the round. Participants must register at the clubhouse before teeing off.

In event of ties a sudden death play-off is planned. In case of rain, the banquet will be held on schedule but golf rounds postponed and arranged at a future date. Ves Hanby and Bob Minkebig will be in charge of computing handicaps.

Tickets are available from Ves Hanby, Bob Minkebig, Leroy Klein, Cliff Kemp, Bob Beaugrand, Bob Wahlers or Dave Dean.

Part of a Program to Modernize and increase the capacity of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company wood room was the installation of a new wood chipper. Crews are shown moving the new chipper into position prior to installing in the wood room.

Ike's Scottish Castle Home, a 4-hour drive away from Queen Elizabeth's Balmoral castle, is being readied for the American president's forthcoming visit to the British Isles. A modernized apartment in the ancient castle Culzean was placed at Eisenhower's disposal for the rest of his life by Scotland in 1945 in appreciation of his war services. Here he is shown with his son, John, during a visit in 1946 when Ike was a general and his son a captain.

Expect Visit by President

Ghostly Piper of Culzean Castle
Will be Quiet if Ike Comes Calling

Ayr, Scotland — People who know about such things say the ghostly piper of Culzean castle is sad. He doesn't think the time will be right if President Eisenhower comes for a visit to his home this month.

Within the walls of Culzean (pronounced Cullane) there's a spot known as the piper's brae. On the eve of a marriage of someone in the family of Culzean, the ghost piper plays, say the local Scots.

Workers at the castle confidently expect that when the president visits Britain late this month, he will turn the castle into a white house for at least a day or two. But they hold little prospect for a marriage during the visit, thus, the piper's sadness.

The castle caretakers are beating carpets, airing tapestries and are in a general flurry of excitement because of rumors that their "laird" is coming home.

Top Apartment
In 1945, a modernized top floor apartment of 16 rooms was put at Eisenhower's disposal for the rest of his life. The gesture was a token of Scotland's appreciation for his services as allied supreme commander during World War II.

Year in, year out, it awaits him. Before his election to the presidency, he vacationed twice at Culzean castle. Since then, his brother, Milton, and a few friends have had holidays there.

Located on a towering cliff above the majestic sweep of the Firth of Clyde, Culzean lies about 15 miles south of Ayr and a few miles north of Turnberry. Although startlingly beautiful, there's an eerie atmosphere of loneliness about it.

The prospect of an Eisenhower visit has already begun to swell the ranks of tourists who daily troop through the castle, paying three shillings (42 cents) for the privilege. The price of admission, however, does not allow them to see Eisenhower's flat. That's strictly private.

National Trust
The money goes to the national trust, a government institution that looks after and preserves old houses and other national monuments.

"The American president will soon be coming here to stay, won't he?" asked a Scotsman sightseer. "Ah, is he now?" replied the caretaker, William Miller, with mock surprise. "Nobody tells me anything. I just work here."

Boy Faces Trial on

Chilton — Jerome Litscher, 17, route 4, Appleton, was turned over to circuit court when he appeared before Justice of the Peace Wilbur R. Winch on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a minor.

Litscher was held at county jail when he couldn't post $1,000 bail.

Litscher was arrested about 11 a.m. Saturday after Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky investigated a complaint of a 14-year-old Kimberly boy who claimed Litscher forced him to disrobe after he was given a ride from Kimberly to a Calumet county road near Darby late Friday night.

Wisconsin's Health

Pollution Must be Stopped To Preserve State Lakes

Carl N. Neupert, M. D., State Health Officer

For many of us, Wisconsin's water is also our bread and butter.

Our countless crystal lakes and streams are one of our chief natural resources. It is important for us to protect and preserve them for our own present, as well as future welfare.

Aside from its importance to our tourist industry, clean water is necessary for our homes, for our farms, and in our industries. More than this, it is essential for our health and well-being.

Wisconsin can boast of much recent progress in the campaign to control pollution of our lakes and streams. In fact, untreated or insufficiently treated human waste in the form of sewage is rapidly being eliminated as a major cause of water pollution.

Wastes from 99.5 per cent of the population served by sewer systems now receive treatment in modern plants before discharge to streams. A total of 28 municipalities completed treatment plants or other improvements in 1958. Of the 63 communities providing no treatment in 1949, only 17 still have not done so. Nine of these, however, have plants under construction. Five have plans approved.

Industry, too, has demonstrated an increasing consciousness of the need for industrial waste control and treatment. In some cases, plants have found that the utilization of materials from wastes formerly discharged now helps reduce the cost of treatment.

The job of water pollution control, however, is far from completion. Industrial and population growth and the development and manufacture new products have resulted in the need for new and additional methods of treatment. Both the Committee on Water Pollution Control and the State Board of Health are doing their best to eliminate pollution of our waters. A continuing program of water pollution control is imperative if we are to maintain the natural water resource so vital to the health, happiness, and well-being of us all.

Order Sewer Over Protest

Lee Court Owner Objects to Paying $250 for Manhole

The street and sanitation committee Monday recommended extending sewer and water mains 80 feet into Lee court with a manhole at the end of the main.

The recommendation was made over the protest of Joseph Grishaber, 1929 E. John street, a property owner who would have to pay about $250 for the manhole installation.

Grishaber said he could not understand why a manhole is necessary. He said the sewer could be cleaned easily by using the manhole 80 feet up the street. Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski said it is nearly impossible to find obstructions unless there is a manhole at the end of a deadend sewer.

Sidewalks Order
The committee also recommended constructing sidewalk on the south side of E. Calumet street from S. Kernan avenue to S. Greenview street. The city would install a crushed stone walk along 630 feet of property owned by Dr. Edward F. Mielke and not annexed to the city.

No action was taken on a request by the Garvey Realty agency to eliminate rear-yard requirements in the block south of W. Wisconsin avenue between N. Clark and N. Superior streets. The 40-foot alleyway splits a piece of property, owned by the Wichmann-Johnson company, into two unusable portions, Eugene N. Garvey said.

The committee will investigate cracks in the curb and gutter on S. Outagamie street near the ball park. The city had ordered Hennes Trucking company to pay for the damage, allegedly caused by one of its cranes, but Hennes' insurance company, Maryland Casualty company, offered about one-half of the replacement expense.

Only Defendant in Suit With Indians

Madison — Circuit Judge Richard Bardwell held today the Wisconsin Alumni Research foundation and Dells Boat company, Inc., should not be defendants in an involuntary servitude suit.

The decision left the Harold B. Larkin post of the American Legion, Wisconsin Dells, as the sole defendant in an action brought by Chief Samuel Lonetree of the Winnebago nation.

Lonetree brought suit against three defendants, alleging he and other Winnebagoes were denied bargaining consideration and adequate compensation for staging Indian ceremonial performances at scenic Stand Rock at the Dells.

Judge Bardwell held that the foundation and boat company had not engaged in transactions with Lonetree, hired by the Legion post for performances. The foundation owns the ceremonial site and the boat firm The Legion post has contracts for use of facilities.

Executive Privilege Continues to Plague Congressional Committees

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Much of the trouble that Sen. Joe McCarthy got into arose from his rejection of the concept of executive privilege—that is, the right of any agency or executive branch of government to withhold from Congress, the press and the people any information which any official, high or low, regards as secret or confidential. The famous Zwickler case is in point.

McCarthy always contended that Gen. Ralph A. Zwickler had given information to an investigator which he, the general, refused to give in public and denied having given to the committee employee.

This question of executive privilege constantly arises when officials of the government testify before congressional committees, and is now again raised in relation to the refusal of James W. Riddleberger, director of the International Cooperation Administration to provide a congressional committee with information it required of him. Riddleberger heads the body that manages the foreign aid program. The house subcommittee or government operations desired the information in the public interest; Riddleberger apparently withheld it on the grounds of executive privilege.

No Laws Involved

Perhaps the lawyers whom I have queried on this subject are not as well-informed as the bureaucrats who operate the governmental machine in Washington but they could provide me with no law concerning executive privilege. True, ours is a tri-partite form of government and each branch is independent of the other, except as the constitution provides checks of one upon the other. However, the money power is vested in congress. All appropriation bills arise in congress and must be passed by congress. In fact, an appropriation bill arises in the house of representatives.

Naturally, without adequate information concerning receipts and expenditures, it is impossible for congress to pass a proper measure concerning an expenditure. The foreign aid program is an expenditure. It comes out of tax money. Therefore, no official may, constitutionally, withhold an iota of information of this kind from congress. There can be no executive privilege concerning the expenditure of public money.

Raises Question

V. M. Newton, Jr., managing editor of "The Tampa Tribune," raised this question in a letter to the aforesaid Riddleberger. This paragraph in his letter is particularly pertinent:

"As an American citizen and an editor in the free American press, I cannot put any credence in your statement that turning this information over to the congress 'would not be in the public interest.' I think that is a matter for the congress, the American people's representatives, to decide. Your argument, of course, is based on the ancient dictatorial philosophy that the people should be satisfied with whatever information their rulers deem they should have. If we Americans citizens ever agree to such a bureaucratic philosophy in Washington, then we dig the grave for the free American government."

There can be little question but that the bureaucrats find the doctrine of executive privilege very comforting. They can use it effectively to cover their mistakes. But it is the business of congress and the people to discover the mistakes of the bureaucrats and to discover them as early as possible. If they are elective officials, the people can throw them out of office; if they are appointed officials, a congressional committee can hold them in contempt of the congress.

Authority Taken Over

The bureaucrats are taking over not only the authority of the executive but also the obligations of congress under the constitution.

If they are able to establish this principle of executive privilege, the form of government will be changed in a revolutionary manner and we shall be able to eliminate congress altogether, combining authority and execution in one body—the hired bureaucracy. The trend was advocated by young New Dealers who held congress in contempt. They favored a government by so-called experts. Fortunately they never could agree on who is expert. So they broke into factions and congress appointed committees to bring mis-

Postal Bag Missing With $141,950 in It

New York — Postal inspectors were busy today trying to find out who's holding the bag—with $141,950 in missing money in it.

The bag with the money disappeared early this month after it was received at the Liberty, N.Y., post office for shipment to the Federal Reserve bank here.

It never arrived. The money belonged to the Sullivan County National bank. But bank officials were sure of one thing—they were not holding the bag.

Joseph Fersch, president of the Sullivan County bank, said the bank had a receipt from the post office for the money.

"It's a big mystery," he said. "Postal inspectors are up here. I understand they're working all along the line but nobody has found the money. We've got our receipt, the post office is stuck with the missing bag."

Robber Caught Due to Ulcer

Newark, N. J. — It's a fast-moving world we live in—even our robbers are getting ulcers.

Police say they were able to catch one such afflicted bandit Monday, who suffered an ulcer attack after an $8 holdup.

Taxi Driver Robert Lalrd told authorities he had picked up two young men who beat him and took the money. Police learned one of the robbers had collapsed nearby, apparently with a stomach cramp.

Then came a quick check with Martland Medical center. The hospital said it had just treated Philip Kennedy, 20, for an ulcer attack.

Police went to Kennedy's house and found him sleeping on his front porch. They say he admitted the robbery and implicated his next door neighbor, Robert Allman, 22.

Ulcer-plagued Kennedy and his companion were charged with assault and robbery.

Judge Told Integration Injures Area

School Trustees Ask More Time to Comply With Order

Houston — (AP) — Houston school trustees told a federal judge immediate desegregation of the south's largest segregated school system could not be made "without irreparable injury to all the school district."

The board pleaded for more time to comply with Judge Ben Connally's 1957 order to "desegregate with all possible speed."

It said it has two integration plans under study. Neither, it said, could be adopted without holding a referendum election or the district would stand to lose $5 million annually in state aid.

Cites Lag

The report also cited classroom shortages and what it called the academic lag of Negro students behind whites.

The board acted in response to an order by Judge Connally two months ago to submit a progress report with respect to its compliance to his 1957 ruling. The 5-volume report ran 373 pages.

One plan submitted two years ago would start integration in the first grade and advance one grade annually beginning in September, 1960.

Second Plan

The second plan, submitted by Board Attorney Joe Reynolds at a secret session last December, calls for desegregation on an area rather than grade basis.

At least 20 per cent of the district's residents—or 47,000 voters—would have to sign petitions requesting the election before it could be called. Petitions circulated by the district have drawn about 4,000 signatures in recent weeks.

Tate, former regional counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has been undergoing psychiatric treatment for the last few weeks.

Hershberger Doubles With Two Out In Ninth Inning

By The Associated Press Pitcher Hank Hemmerly of last-place Cedar Rapids made the big news in the 'Three-I' league Monday when he pitched a 1-hit, 5-0 victory over Lincoln.

Foxes back to the .500 rating, back to fifth place and a full six games behind their 3-1 league-leading conquerors. (A sweep for the Foxes, on the other hand, would have pulled them within two games of the top.)

Tonight, the Foxes will strive to recoup at least some of the lost ground in the first of two consecutive doubleheaders against second-place Sioux City. Rene Nodarse and Lee Stange are due to pitch for the Foxes. Goodland field first-game time is 7 p.m.

Sunday the Foxes had been more than a match for the Demons as they logged a victory and a tie. Sinquefeld Shines But, last night, Bonnie Sinquefeld was the only consistently troublesome Fox for the front-runners and their winning pitchers, righty Bob Gill and lefty John Anderson.

'Come-From-Behind' Giants Tip Reds, Lead by 3 Games

McCovey's Pinch Single Drives Home Big Run; Pirates Win

By The Associated Press A bunch of Willies—completely these San Francisco Giants, what with Willie Mays, Willie McCovey or Willie Kirkland coming through in the late innings to keep 'em out front in that National League pennant chase.

Since taking over first place on July 30, the Giants have won 12 of 17 games—and in nine of those victories they didn't score the clincher before the seventh inning. Fact is, in the nine late comebacks, two were won in the seventh, three in the eighth, two in the ninth, and two in extra innings.

Kirkland's done the job three times. Mays and McCovey twice each. Mays Ties Issue It was that way again Monday night as the Giants came from behind with five runs in the last three innings for a 6-3 victory over Cincinnati that gave San Francisco a 3-game bulge. Mays drove in the run that tied it 3-3 with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning.

A pinch single by McCovey got the winning run home in a 2-run eighth. That added a half-game to the Giants lead as second-place Los Angeles split a twin-

Rickey Will Head 3rd Major League

Branch to Sell His Buc Stock

New York — Branch Rickey today was named president of the Continental league, the embryo third major league.

Rickey, 78-year-old chairman of the Pittsburgh club's board of directors, said he accepted the job as a challenge and promised that the new league would be in operation in 1961.

Shea Still Chairman He will sell his 958 shares of Pirate stock back to the club for $200,000. The arrangements were approved by Ford C. Frick, commissioner of baseball.

William A. Shea of New York said he would continue as chairman of the founder's group.

Shea said that the Continental league had taken over Rickey's contract with the Pirates and would pay him $50,000. It still has 16 months to go.

Shea also said that he had met with New York Mayor Robert Wagner and the board of estimate and that the city officials had voted unanimously to build a new park in Flushing Meadows, site of the 1939 world fair, when the league gets into operation.

Rickey, a one-time catcher for the St. Louis Browns of the American League, has been general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn Dodgers and the Pirates. He, generally is recognized as the father of baseball's farm system.

Exudes Confidence

He also is the man who broke organized baseball's color line by signing Jackie Robinson, later to become a hero for the Brooklyn Dodgers, to a Montreal contract shortly after World War II.

Rickey exuded confidence over the prospects for the new league.

"I think that when the majors are convinced that a third league will prove beneficial to them, as well as to the country at large, they will cooperate with us 100 per cent," he said.

New York City is expected to be the heart of the new league. Four other cities have been lined up by Shea. They are Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Denver and Toronto.

Zimmer's Homer Gives Los Angeles Split With Braves

Dodgers Win Nightcap, 4-3, After Being Stopped by Buhl in Opener

Milwaukee — The Milwaukee Braves started out with the bang of a king-size firecracker and ended up with a quiet fizzle.

That sums up the Braves' return home Monday night in a two-night doubleheader with Los Angeles before a crowd of 40,255 at County stadium.

Milwaukee combed four pitchers for a 3-1 victory in the opener and picked up three runs in the first inning of the nightcap. But that was the end and the Dodgers took the second game, 4-3, to cling to second place on a twin bill split.

Scatters 7 Hits Bob Buhl, an old-time master of the Dodgers, scattered seven hits in winning the first game and posting his tenth victory in 18 decisions. Four of his triumphs have been against Los Angeles.

Joe Adcock, Eddie Mathews, and Hank Aaron provided Buhl with the big punch, each connecting for homers. And Hammerin' Hank also chipped in with three singles despite a bad back which forced him to remain on the sidelines in a doubleheader Sunday in Pittsburgh.

A walk, a throwing error on an infield out and Aaron's first single gave the Braves their first run in the opening inning. Adcock then hoisted his seventeenth homer far over the fence in left center.

Mathews blasted his thirty-fourth homer into the runway between the right field seats and the bleachers in the second. Three more runs — on a walk, singles by Mathews and Aaron, an intentional base on balls to Adcock and a single to center by Andy Bonduel added solo second round honors to its undisputed first half title in the Dairyland Baseball league Sunday.

Youthful pitcher Jerry Marohl hurled a 2-hitter for Bonduel in its 4-1 victory over Nichols. Marohl struck out 14 and walked eight.

League officials will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Nichols ballroom to discuss a possible season's end playoff. Also on the docket is consideration of Bonduel's protest of its 2-1 loss to Bear Creek on Aug. 9 — the champs' lone setback of the second half.

Bonduel scored two runs in the fifth and two in the seventh last Sunday.

Run in 8th

Nichols tallied its lone marker in the eighth. Joe Buss pitched for the losers, allowing five hits. John Richter, Bonduel center fielder, was the only man on either club to get more than one hit. He singled twice.

Landstad scored its first second round victory, 2-1, over Hofa Park on Martin Themer's 2-run homer in the last of the ninth. Hofa Park had gone ahead in the top half of the frame when pitcher Themer gave up a bases-loaded walk.

Themer's 2-out circuit blast followed a single by Gary Radtke. Gene Krahn went all the way and took the loss, hurling an 8-hitter.

Black Creek posted a 6-5 triumph over Navarino. Jim Ludwig, the winner, tossed a 9-hitter. Volkman and Erb, toiled for Navarino. A 3-run sixth inning gave Black Creek a 6-4 lead.

Washington — Darlene Anderson, slender 17-year-old Minnesota blonde, qualified Monday for the championship flight of the National Girls' Golf tournament and second best score of the day.

Along with Diana Hoke of Pittsburgh, and Andrea Schaffer of San Francisco, Darlene established herself among the tournament favorites. They led the field in qualifying performances on the par 36-73 course.

Diana and Andrea, both 17, paced the field of 88 with 76 each. Darlene was next with 77. None of the other 32 who became eligible for the start of match play today beat 80.

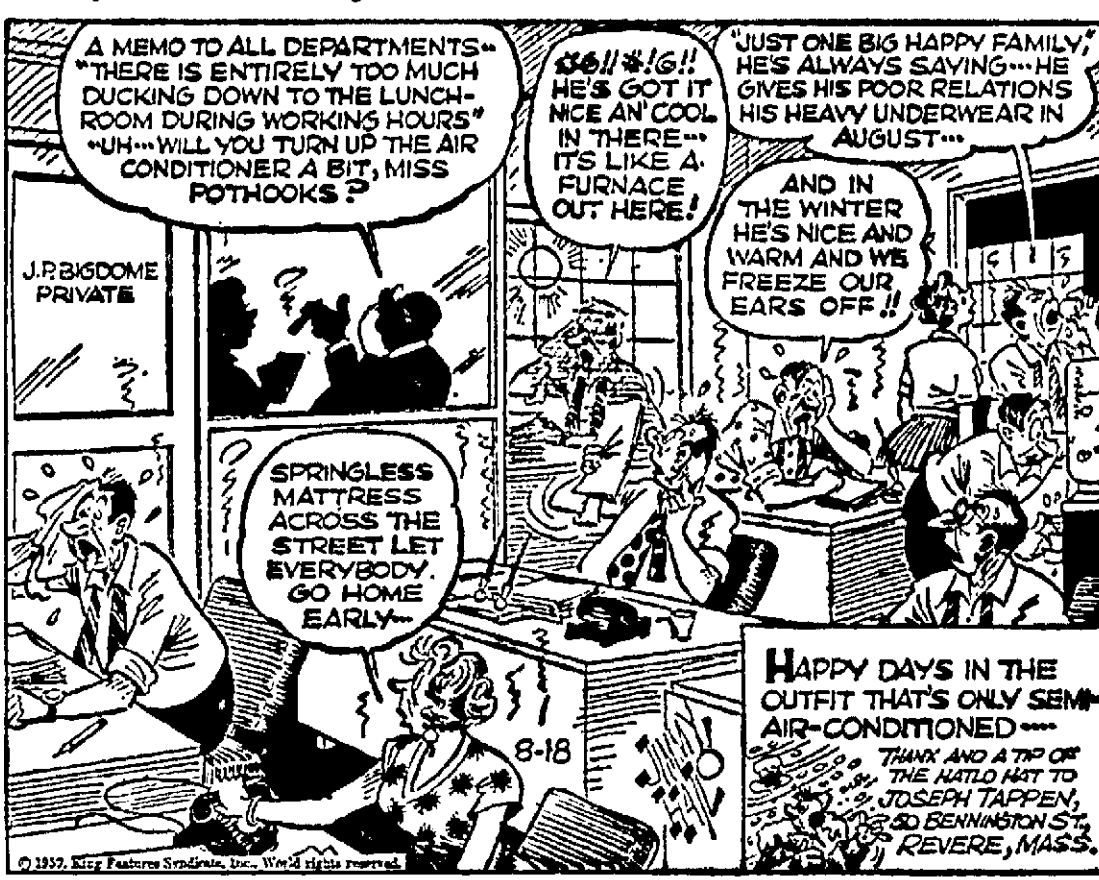

Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., at 16 the youngest state champion Wisconsin women have known, finished with an 81 in the qualifying round.

They'll Do It Every Time

New York — The proposed return heavyweight championship bout between Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson today was without a promoter.

There were mounting indications that it will be without champion Johansson, who lifted the crown from Patterson last June 26. The return tentatively is set for Sept. 22.

The New York State Athletic Commission Monday suspended the matchmaker's license of Bill Rosensohn and the promoter's license of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., for "statements" made by Rosensohn.

A signed story said the suspension undoubtedly was a result of a signed story by Rosensohn in Sports Illustrated in which he said he unwillingly signed away control of Rosensohn Enterprises to the first Johansson-Patterson fight could go.

All the confusion has brought claims and counter claims from both sides of the Atlantic.

The big question, aside from who is going to promote the fight if it ever comes off, is:

How good is the contract Johansson signed with Rosensohn for the return? It was a personal contract with Rosensohn, and according to Ingemar, had nothing to do with Rosensohn Enterprises.

In addition to all the promotional fuss, Ingemar still refuses to talk about a return until he is satisfied with an accounting of the money from radio, TV and movies of the first fight.

Brue Shoots 72 In Qualifying for Trans-Mississippi

Minneapolis — For 13 hours a horde of amateur golfers assailed sedate little Woodhill course Monday in the opening qualifying round of the Trans-Mississippi Golf tournament. Only one, a lean young Texan, got through the gates.

A 1-under-par 70 gave Don Massengal of Jacksboro, Tex., the lead heading into today's final 18 holes that will decide the 64-man field for match play competition.

Massengal was the only golfer in a field of 192 to solve Woodhill's deceptively hard par 35-36-71.

Two strokes behind Massengal were Bob Brue of Milwaukee, Ron Royer of Crawfordville, Ind., Charles Coady of Stamford, Texas, and Rodney Horn of Kansas City.

Brue, who bested par by 20 strokes in winning the Wisconsin open last week, was in the rough on six of his first nine shots off the tee over the troublesome Woodhill Country club course but still managed the 1-over-par 72.

Buchholz, Olmedo Win In Doubles

Bartzen, Holmberg Upset in U. S. Tournament Play

Brookline, Mass. — Al ex Olmedo and Earl Buchholz, Jr., have some hard work ahead of them this week in their Davis cup prep but already they show strong teamwork around the net.

Olmedo, the Peruvian master who led the U. S. to victory over Australia last December, and his agile 18-year-old partner from St. Louis, won their opening round men's match Monday in the seventy-ninth U. S. National Doubles tournament.

The scores were 7-5, 8-6, 6-4, over 1958 Davis cup squadman Don Kierbow of Los Angeles and Ivo Pimental, No. 1 Venezuelan player.

Non-playing U. S. Cup Captain Perry Jones, looking ahead to the challenge round with the Aussies Aug. 28-30 at Forest Hills, N. Y., apparently will use Olmedo and Buchholz in the crucial doubles if they prove themselves as a unit this week.

Wimbledon champions Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson dispensed with Alan Roberts of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Ned Neeley of Atlanta, Ga., 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

National Junior champions Charlie McKinley of St. Louis and Martin Reissen of Hinsdale, Ill., pulled the major upset of the day in ousting Davis Cupper "Tut" Bartzen and Ron Holmberg, 6-2, 8-6, 12-10.

Lohr Medalist In State Seniors' Meet

Milwaukee — Jimmy Lohr of Sheboygan, fired a 73 Monday to win medalist honors in the Wisconsin State Senior Golf tournament. Lohr, carded 37-36 on the par 70 Ozaukee course.

Marshall Smith of Green Bay, formerly of Neenah, was runnerup with 74 and Rudy Finst of Sheboygan, and Tom Brennan of Milwaukee, followed with 75s.

Match play opened today, and finals are set for Friday. Jack Stafford of Neenah shot a 92 and failed to qualify, in another week.

Wynn Seeks 17th Win of Year Tonight

Amazing Chisox Veteran Tops AL In Shutouts

Chicago — At an age when most men get sore arms just tossing peanuts to elephants, Early Wynn and his durable right hand American league batters eating out of his hand.

The 39-year-old pitcher for the league-leading Chicago White Sox will try for his seventeenth victory of the season tonight against the Baltimore Orioles. He has lost 7.

In his last two outings he has hurled 3-hit shutouts, topping the circuit with five whitewash jobs for the campaign as well as leading in number of triumphs.

Top Active Winner

Wynn, in his nineteenth major league season, is baseball's top active winner with 265. Thirty-five more victories and he will become the first pitcher to win 300 major league games since "Lefty" Grove.

Wynn also is seeking the league's strikeout title for the third straight year. He knocked off 184 in 1957, 179 in 1958 and is tied with Cleveland's Herb Score so far this season with 139.

"I do a lot of running," said Wynn. "An athlete's legs are the first to go. So far my legs feel strong and my arm just follows along."

Manager Al Lopez says Wynn does more running than any player he ever has seen.

Runs and Runs

Wynn will run a little and throw a few the next day to loosen up," says Lopez. "The next two days he will be running and running. He likes to take his turn every fourth day. If he has to wait longer between starts, you can find him in the bullpen throwing real hard."

The fast ball and curve still are Wynn's meat-and-potatoes pitches.

"He has good breaking stuff, and he knows when to come in with that fast one when the batters aren't expecting it," says catcher Sherm Lollar. "He has a world of confidence—and he knows how to pitch, he knows the batters."

Coach Ray Berres says Wynn is "sneaky fast."

"He has a smooth delivery and a slow windup. There is a sudden snap when he comes through with his arm and this makes it hard for the batter to follow him," Berres says.

Continental League Organizer Says He Has No Financial, Park, Personnel Worries

BY JOE REICHLER

League, American association and Pacific Coast league?

3. How many cities actually could produce stadiums of major league quality and capacity?

4. How would the Continental league maintain the interest of the players and public without World Series incentive?

5. What would the new league propose to compare favorably with the major league players' pension plan?

Commissioner Ford Frick, head of the 7-man major league committee, acknowledged he was eagerly waiting to hear the answers. Shea, the New York lawyer and guiding spirit of the still unborn Continental league, admits he'd like to know some of the answers himself.

Shea, however, insists his league has no financial, personnel or park problems.

"I know there are some who scoff at us and say it can't be done," said Shea. "They're wrong. A third major league is inevitable. We have the men and the money to provide it. So why not get on with it?"

"All we need is the complete cooperation of the major leagues and we are proceeding on that basis."

Not Conclusive

Shea has backers for five teams lined up. The founding five are New York, Houston, Minneapolis — St. Paul, Denver and Toronto. It is believed he has applications for membership from San Diego, Portland, Seattle, Buffalo, Miami, Montreal, Dallas-Ft. Worth and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The results of the meeting between Shea and Frick's group is sure to be inconclusive. The majors' committee has no power to make decisions. At best, it will bring the report of its findings to the major league convention in Miami Beach next December.

"I can't see how this meeting can possibly be anything more than an exploratory one with many more to follow before we can get anywhere," said Frick.

Shea acknowledged the meeting is more "enlightenment and clarification."

"There are basically four points which have to be cleared up," he said. "These involve players, territorial rights, pensions and what additional cities would best fit our plans."

Tunnell suffered a fracture of a small bone in his hand early in the game while tackling Willie Gallimore. Em's wearing a cast now but he expects to be ready for action in another week.

State Duck Season Will Open on Oct. 7

Daily Bag Limit Cut to 3; Shooting Hours Curtailed

Madison — A shorter duck hunting season in Wisconsin for 1959-60 was established by the Conservation commission Monday in accord with proposals offered by the U. S. Interior department.

The 50-day season for ducks will open Oct. 7, a week later than last year, and carry added restrictions for duck hunters. The season for geese will open the same day but run for 70 days. Last season both ran for 70 days.

One Less

Daily bag limit for ducks was set at three, one less than last season, and the possession limit at six instead of eight. A new restriction limits legal takes of diving species—one canvas back, or one redhead or one ruddy duck.

Rams Worry About Stopping Eddie LeBaron

QB Goes 11-for-11 In Opener of Exhibition Season

By The Associated Press

Tiny Eddie LeBaron—a Golath on the gridiron—has the beefy defensive boys worried about his accurate passing as he prepares for his last season of quarterbacking in the National Football league.

LeBaron, who does his signal-calling for the Washington Redskins, is retiring at the end of the 1959 campaign to take his bar exam and set up a law practice.

In his first exhibition outing, LeBaron—who stands 5-foot-7 and weighs 165—completed all 11 of his passes against San Francisco in a 27-24 loss to the 49ers.

Los Angeles backfield coach Jack Faulkner, scouting the game for Friday's meeting of the Rams and Redskins, says it's going to take a tremendous effort to stop LeBaron.

Great Rush

"The 49ers put a great rush on LeBaron," Faulkner said Monday. "Big Bob St. Clair was breathing down LeBaron's neck on every pass try, but still couldn't stop him. Just when you think you have that little fellow trapped behind the line he wriggles loose."

LeBaron's been doing a lot of effective wriggling since he joined the Skins seven years ago after winning accolades at College of the Pacific.

Last year, LeBaron won the passing championship of the NFL with an average gain of 9.41 yards a pass. He attempted 145, completed 70 (for a 54.5 percentage) and gained 1,365 yards. Eleven throws went for touchdowns.

LeBaron wasn't the only accurate arm in the weekend games.

Hits 10 of 12

Zeke Bratkowski completed 10 of 12 passes in the Chicago Bears' victory over Green Bay and Monday drew the team's next game against Philadelphia Saturday.

Veteran Bobby Layne will be the starting signal-caller when the Pittsburgh Steelers meet the Chicago Cardinals in another Saturday game.

Coach Buddy Parker also wants to get a look at Len Dawson, Dan Nolin and Jack Stephens.

The Cards, however, will be without rookie quarterback reported in fair condition.

ures to miss two or maybe three starting assignments against Baltimore, New York and Boston—three clubs that have provided more than half of his total victories. He's 2-1 against the Orioles, 3-3 against the Yankees and 2-1 against the Red Sox.

For the record, while Pierce and Donovan have contributed only a 6-4 record between them in the White Sox' 27-10 push to the top, Shaw has a 5-0 mark, Wynn 5-2 and Lalman 3-2. Low is 4-0 in the spurge, Staley 3-0, and the two firemen also picked up five saves between them.

Quick Lead

The Indians built up a quick lead at Detroit yesterday, scoring three in a second inning triggered by "Rocky" Colavito's thirty-fifth home run. But the Tigers battled back behind the 8-hit pitching of Paul Foytack (11-10), the right-hander Cleveland bombed Sunday. He gave up only four hits over the last seven innings.

Gary Bell (13-10) was the loser after winning five in a Bears' victory over Green Bay and Monday drew the team's next game against Philadelphia Saturday.

Veteran Bobby Layne will be the starting signal-caller when the Pittsburgh Steelers meet the Chicago Cardinals in another Saturday game.

Coach Buddy Parker also wants to get a look at Len Dawson, Dan Nolin and Jack Stephens.

The Cards, however, will be without rookie quarterback reported in fair condition.

usually proved the margin of difference.

Gill, who had retired 15 straight batters after Dibelius was safe on an error in the first inning, didn't allow a hit until Sinquefeld whiffed a single to right center to lead off the sixth and encountered no real difficulty until the seventh.

After one out in the Foxes' final turn, Weather's 3-0-0 walked, Jack Feller struck out, but Dickie Harris doubled. Sinquefeld slapped a 2-run single to center. Nodarse, batted for reliever John Aehl and walked. With the tying runs aboard, Ron Dibelius tried to left-hand a shot to left field—but the ball was high enough for Paul Price to get under it for the game-ending catch.

For Furlow, who yielded only five hits, one walk and two earned runs in six innings, it was at least the third narrow defeat among his six losses this season.

6-Hit Breeze

Anderson had little to worry about as he pitched a 6-hit breeze in the afterpiece.

The second game opened the same as the first, with Morgan getting a lead-off life on Weather's error and Price delivering a follow-up single. Bill McGuckin's single counted the first run, and the second scored as the Foxes were executing the night's only double play.

The Demons continued their run production against starter Dick Griffith at the rate of two in the third (on McGuckin's bases-full walk and Cal Emery's sacrifice fly), one in the fourth (on Morgan's RBI single); and three in the sixth (on Al Kenders' single, John Sinquefeld's double, a walk, a sacrifice fly, McGuckin's single and errors on Sinquefeld and Feller).

Maintains Order

Aehl ended the uprising in the sixth and maintained order in the seventh. But in the eighth Emery ran his league leading RBI count to 98 with a 3-run double off Gary Mitchell.

The Foxes got a singleton in the second on an error, "Spoon's" single and Sinquefeld's sacrifice fly to center. In the ninth, Weather's whiffed a lead-off triple to right center, and Sinquefeld counted him with a fly ball to center.

Pafko—gave Buhl an extra cushion in the fourth.

The only Los Angeles run off the big right-hander came when Wally Moon connected for his tenth homer leading off the seventh.

In the nightcap, the Braves jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. A pair of walks and Aaron's liner off starting pitcher Stan Williams loaded the bases. One run came across on a wild pitch, and another on Wes Covington's ground out. Adecock hit a sacrifice fly for the third tally.

Carl Willey set down 10 Los Angeles batters in order before allowing a couple of singles in the fourth. He got out of trouble in that inning, but lost control in the fifth.

A walk, a long fly to center, a wild pitch and an error by Johnny Logan let in one run. An infield grounder then put two runners into scoring position for Charlie Neal's 2-run single to center.

Bob Rush took over and got the Dodgers out, then retired three straight batters in the sixth. But light-hitting Don Zimmerman picked out a pitch and sent it high over the fence close to the left field foul line in the seventh to hand Rush his fourth setback. He has won five.

The Braves couldn't do anything against southpaw Johnny Podres, who took over in the fifth and allowed only four hits the rest of the way. Podres struck out six in earning his tenth victory against seven defeats.

The split dropped the Dodgers three games behind first place San Francisco, who defeated Cincinnati. The Braves are four games behind the pace—setting Giants.

The Braves and the Dodgers wind up their series to-night with Joey Jay, a hard-luck hurler with a 4-10 record, going for Milwaukee against right-hander Don Drysdale, holder of a 15-7 mark.

Wayne Williams Cops North Shore Crown

Dave Graska of Oshkosh at Appleton Bütte des Morts dropped in his tee shot on and Skoog's season low.

Bob Martin fired a 72 in the par 3, No. 11 hole at Appleton's Reid Municipal Golf course over the weekend. The shot travelled 160 yards.

Playing with Joe Spiezenski and Roger Stang of Oshkosh, Graska finished with a 75.

Also at Muni, Bill Greiner, dropped in an eagle on the 475-yard, par 5, No. 16 hole.

Wayne Williams defeated Ralph McGowan for the North Shore Golf club championship in a 36-hole weekend match.

Williams, who previously won the title in 1955, held a bulky 8-up lead after 16 holes and finally won, 5 and 4. On the second 18 Williams eagled the par 5, No. 5 hole.

Williams had eliminated 4-time champion Johnny Dutcher in the semi-finals while McGowan knocked off Roy Rhynher. The club's blind bogey event was rained out Saturday.

A 1-over-par 71 by Don Skoog was the weekend low.

Herb Stinski posted a pair of 2-over-par 74s at Neenah Ridgeway. Monty Luka and Otto Lieber notched 75s, Harley Loker and Dick Spangenberg 77s, Bob Hogan and Ray Doell 78 and Russ Berggren 79.

Bob Barlament recorded a 78 at Appleton Riverview.

Extremists on Way To Defeating Party

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
Washington — The extremists among the congressional Democrats are well on the road to defeating their own party in next year's presidential election. The prospects for the Republican party are bright, whether he be Vice President Richard Nixon or Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, are far better than a month ago. The most able Democrats here, whether sensibly liberal or moderate or conservative, know it, too. It is not that the Republican party has suddenly gathered great new strength by its own actions. It is simply that the Democratic fringes on left and right — but mainly on the left because of the special destructiveness of the ultra liberals to any common-sense politics — are progressively putting an impression of theatrical futility over their party's record. Ultra-liberal pressure groups, notably the labor lobby, are wholly in control of the ultra liberals in congress — in both parties, if it comes to that. If they go on as they are now going on, the Democratic ultra liberals and their pressure-group masters will elect a Republican president in 1960 — with some considerable help from those they dislike the most, the Democrats from the deep south.

Defeated Democratic Bill
The latest and best illustration of the spectacular incompetence of this curious coalition of left and right-wingers is in the labor reform issue. They defeated in the house of representatives a moderate Democratic reform bill in favor of a "tougher," and essentially Republican, measure.

The winners are several: the Republican party generally, President Eisenhower — and possibly, for the short run only, the labor leaders themselves, since the net result is likely to be no final congressional action at all in this session.

The undoubted loser is the Democratic party generally. The probable losers are all the rationally liberal Democratic presidential aspirants, like Sen. John Kennedy.

The position is this: every politician, Democratic or Republican, save a handful of frantic and outright labor stooges, knows perfectly well that the public is demanding some reform. At least 90 per cent of the Democratic members of both houses know that this Democratically-controlled congress can adjourn without acting at all only at its great peril.

Too Severe for Senate
The senate has long since passed a reasonable bill, largely the work of Sen. Kennedy. But the house has now adopted a bill which, though perhaps academically not too severe, is entirely too severe to win senate acceptance.

This has been done by the house for two reasons: because the rubber-stamp ultra liberals, under nakedly arrogant orders from labor lobbyists, refused at every step to assist the sensible liberals who wanted to clean up but not punish labor, and because many of the moderate southern Democrats, under less arrogant but nevertheless very real orders from business lobbyists, likewise refused assistance to any compromise that was rational from the Democratic viewpoint. These simply went over to the Republicans and the deep southerners.

Who Killed Reform
Thus if labor reform is dead for this session — and the odds are three to one that it is — the question of who killed this Cock Robin is not hard to answer. Two arrows were shot into this bird. One, from the defecting southern moderates, went into the wing. But the other, from the ultra liberals, went into the bird's heart.

They have gone a long way, the ultra liberals, to convince many reasonable people, including many reasonable Democrats, that they are simply too irresponsible to be entrusted with important affairs. Inability to control them has hurt their party as a whole.

They are good at making demonstrations of "fight, fight," but they are increasingly proving that they can't perform at their job, which is politics.

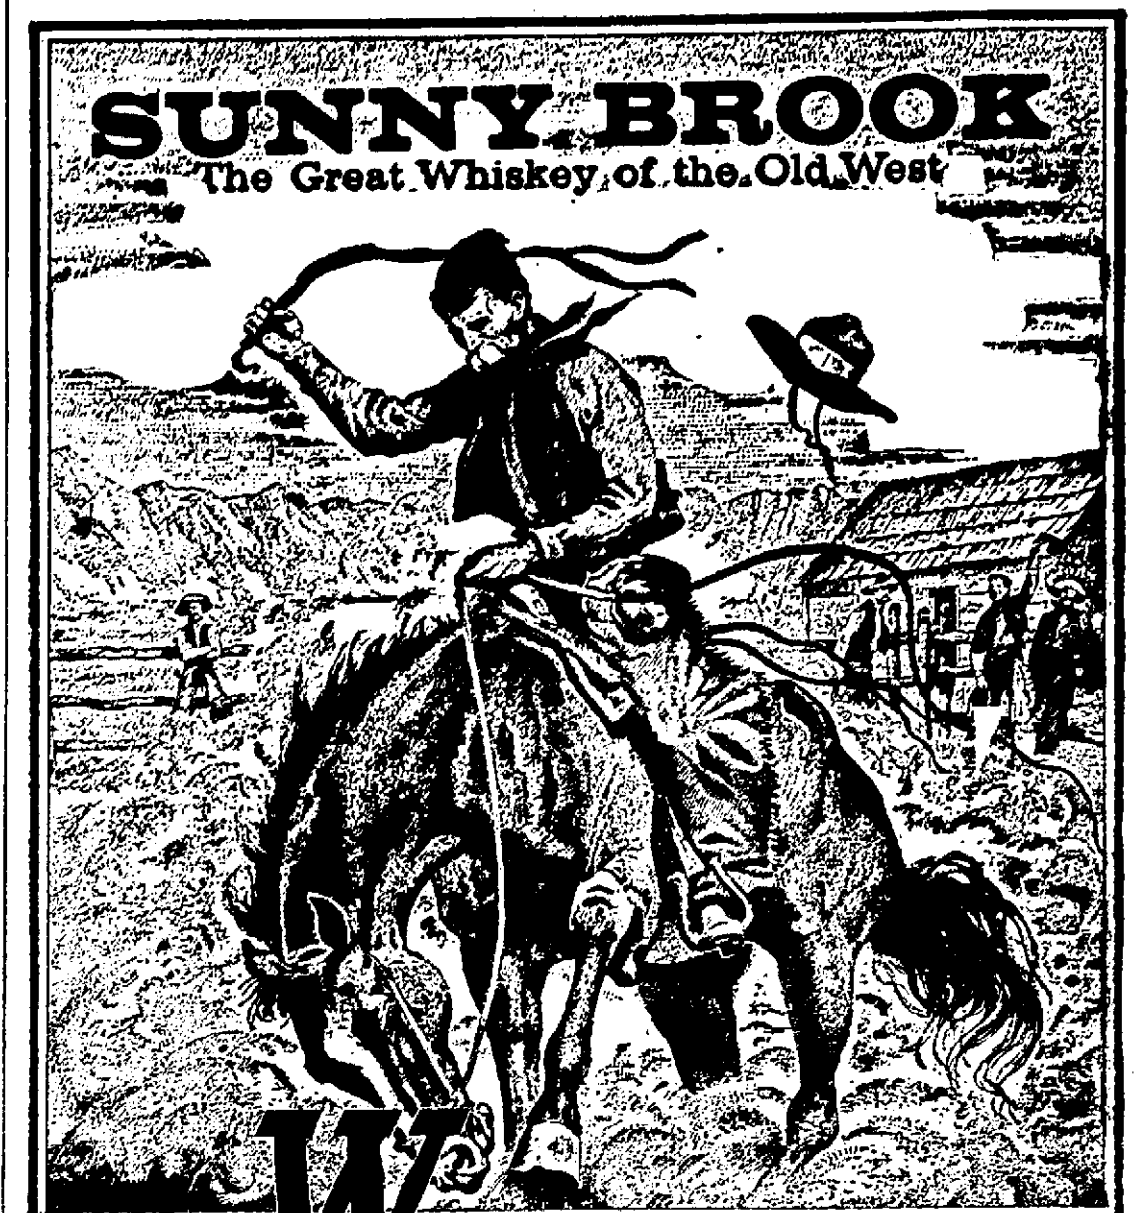

The end of legislative politics is not to lose actions with proud talk of "no compromise." The end of legislative politics is to legislate. They are like a lawyer who, though he always utterly enralls the jury, also always loses his cases.
